New Hearing Opens In Lias Deportation

BULLETIN

The new trial centers on the question whether Lias was born in Greece or in the United States.

Lias insists he was born 60 years ago in Wheeling. The government contends he is a native of Greece.

The former bootlegging and gambling czar was ordered deported in 1955 by the U. S. Immigration Board. The order to send him from this country was upheld by the Immigration Board of Appeals.

Lias, nicknamed Big Bill because of his huge bulk of some 400 pounds, carried his fight to the U. S. District Court. Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy ruled in 1958 the Immigration Board of Appeals was in accordance with law and supported by substantial evidence.

That decision, however, was vacated later. A new trial was ordered on the basis of a U. S. Court of Appeals decision in a case of similar facts.

The new trial was first set for May 29, but was postponed after Judge McGarraghy disqualified himself from presiding. Jack Wasserman, attorney for Lias, objected to Judge McGarraghy hearing the case because of his previous role as presiding judge.

Judge Alexander Holtzoff was assigned to the new trial.

Ohio Assembly Hopes To Wind Up Its Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislators reported back to the Statehouse today for what probably is the last week of work in this 6-month-long session.

That "probably" has to be stuck in there because failure to wind up major legislative business between now and Saturday could carry this session on into a 27th week.

However, both Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, and House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, say they expect working sessions to end this week.

Man Drowned, 3 Swim To Safety When Boat Strikes Floating Board

An inquest is set tonight at 7 in Chester into the death of a 37-year-old Chicago truck driver who was drowned Saturday afternoon while attempting to swim to shore with three companions after they were thrown from their outboard-powered cabin cruiser when it struck a piece of drifting wood in the Ohio River off East Liverpool.

The victim was Walter Sopata, a trucker who had stopped off in East Liverpool to visit friends while on a run back to Chicago as a driver for the Chicago - Pittsburgh Motor Express Co. His body was pulled from the river shortly before 7 Saturday night, about four hours after the mishap.

The three others escaped death by swimming to shore near the Mississippi-Ohio Oil Co. dock on the River Rd. upstream from the Chester Bridge.

They are David Wilkinson, 30, of 1723 Wooster Ave., owner of the boat, and two other passengers, Joseph Ross, 30, of Beechwood Ave. and Charles Potts, 25, of Church Alley, Chester.

FIREMEN SAID all four were thrown from the boat when it passed over a drifting piece of lumber which hit one of the twin 25 - horsepower outboards and threw the boat out of control.

Wilkinson, Ross and Potts swam to shore successfully, but Sopata went down near the spot where he was thrown out of the boat, despite his companions' efforts to help him.

The mishap was timed at 3:07 Saturday, the time Central Station firemen received the report from an employe of the oil company. The body was recovered at 6:52 after an army of searchers moved in to aid local firemen in dragging operations.

McShane said he heard yells from the direction of the river, but at first he paid no attention because there had been some people water skiing shortly before.

The veteran fireman said he saw the boat circle the men in the water and wondered why it didn't pick them up.

"I realized something was wrong when it kept circling and finally headed toward the West Virginia shore, crashing into the bank," he said.

McShane said he got his field glasses and saw the four men swimming toward the Ohio side of the river.

The victim was the last of the four and wasn't swimming as fast as the others. He started to flounder in the water and tried to take long strokes before sinking out of sight, McShane continued.

THE FIREMAN called to his wife to notify the fire department and headed for the river bank, arriving shortly after the men reached shore. He questioned Ross about the landing in order to pinpoint the mark for the searchers.

McShane also was in the fire department boat when a grappling hook snagged the victim's underclothing and floated him to the surface. Paul Hall, a personal friend of the victim's, was in the boat with McShane and an unidentified man when the body came to the surface.

Central Station firemen responded to the call with an emergency truck and a boat. Asst. Chief James Pelley was in charge, with three others who were on duty at Central, Dolph Knott, Richard Bissell and Joseph Yeager. Later, four off-duty firemen arrived to assist — Asst. Chief David Anderson and Firemen Merle McShane, Donald Lynn and James Walker.

FIREMAN YEAGER dove for the body, using as breathing apparatus the Scott Air-Paks which firemen utilize when entering smoke-filled buildings. But the pressure was too great because of the depth and he emerged after the second dive spitting blood.

Dragging operations got underway, with assistance from operators of several privately-owned boats. Meanwhile, the second East Liverpool fire department rescue boat was called to the scene.

The Civil Defense DUKW — amphibious truck — was on the scene. Midland firemen sent grappling hooks and skindivers from throughout the district arrived, including a contingent from Brooke County which was notified by the Hancock County sheriff's department.

At 6:52 p. m., the body was recovered by one of the East Liverpool fire department boats at a spot 50 feet from shore and about 10 feet from the spot where Mr. Sopata was seen to go under.

THE BODY was removed to shore and then taken to the wharf at the foot of Broadway. Be-

Speculation Continues On Tractor Deal

Another Meeting May Be Held With Anti-Castro Men

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Ten anti-Castro prisoners awaited developments here today that might bring freedom to them and 1,187 of their comrades in Cuba.

John Hooker Jr., executive secretary of the dissolved Tractors for Freedom Committee, was expected to return from Miami this afternoon for his third meeting with the prisoners since their arrival from Havana Saturday.

Hooker has insisted he is not negotiating with the prisoners but only serving as a contact between them and the committee, Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Milton Eisenhower and Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers.

Informed sources said, however, that Hooker's continued contact with the prisoners indicated a new approach may be made to resume the stalemated negotiations.

Hooker said he could neither confirm nor deny such a possibility. One of the prisoners privately indicated that Hooker was offered a new proposal during his brief meeting with them Sunday.

Negotiations for the prisoners' release broke down Friday when Prime Minister Fidel Castro rejected a final offer of 500 general purpose tractors from the committee. Castro said then he would send 10 prisoners back to the United States to explain his position. The same prisoner group visited Miami and Washington last month after Castro first asked for 500 heavy tractors.

When asked about the $28 million estimated cost of the tractors demanded by Castro, Ulises Carbo, leader of the prisoner delegation, replied: "The tractors are worth $28 million in Cuba. They are much cheaper here," indicating that a face-saving formula may be found in a reduced figure.

Carbo told The Associated Press that Castro had given the prisoners "15 days or more" in which to complete their mission. "We still haven't decided whether we'll take all the time," he added.

Carbo also indicated the prisoners had reached no decision on whether they might make a direct public appeal for funds if no action is taken by the tractors committee.

"We are still thinking it over," he said.

The two-week shutdown includes the office staff. Only the maintenance department will work, Brown said.

Taft-Hartley Law Invoked In Ship Tieup

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today invoked the Taft-Hartley Act in an effort to halt the strike of maritime unions.

In an executive order, the President said the strike will, if permitted to continue, imperil the national health and safety.

At the same time, Kennedy set up a three-member emergency board to consider facts and circumstances of the dispute between sea-going unions and ship operators.

Kennedy set a deadline of Friday for the board to make its report.

The board, under Taft-Hartley law, will make no recommendations, but will merely report on the issues of the dispute.

Kennedy, unless the strike is settled in the meantime, presumably will then seek an injunction to halt the strike for an 80-day cooling off period.

The first step of the injunctive machinery is to ask for a temporary restraining order. Under the law, the federal judge who gets the application must grant the temporary restraining order.

Three maritime unions moved to head off the Taft-Hartley process with an offer Sunday to keep critically needed supplies moving.

They asked Kennedy to appoint an impartial board that would determine which cargoes were essential to the health, safety and security of the nation. Striking seamen then would work ships carrying these supplies.

An estimated 150 ships, including passenger liners, are tied up on the East, Gulf and West coasts. Strike losses have run to many millions of dollars a day and from Hawaii have come reports of dwindling food supplies and a piling up of exports.

When former President Dwight D. Eisenhower used Taft-Hartley in the 1959 steel strike, Kennedy called use of the law "the most one-sided, unfortunate and unfair action in this administration's history."

Joseph Curran, head of the National Maritime Union, one of the six unions on strike, said Saturday that a Taft-Hartley injunction might only lead to a worse strike after the 80-day period.

Negotiations between the unions and the American Merchant Marine Institute, representing the ship owners, have been in a stalemate. The key issue in the strike is a union demand for bargaining rights among crews of American - owned ships flying foreign flags.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg today gave the President the results of a week end survey on the strike's impact.

Although Goldberg, former counsel for the Steelworkers Union, is not sympathetic to use of Taft-Hartley, he said over the weekend the law will be enforced if national health or safety is endangered.

"Whether we like it or not this is our plain duty," Goldberg said.

Problem For Britain

Iraq May Annex Oil-Rich Region

LONDON (AP)—Britain rejected today Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's claim that the oil state of Kuwait belongs to Iraq.

At the same time, the Foreign Office disclosed that the British government has begun immediate consultations with the ruler of Kuwait over Kassem's move to annex the shiekdom, which lies next to Iraq. The ruler is Shiek Abdullah Al-salim As'sabah.

Britain ended its protectorate over Kuwait last week, but announced it would continue to guarantee Kuwait against aggression if the shiekdom asked for aid.

Oil resources in the 5,800-square-mile territory are worked by the Kuwait Oil Co.—jointly owned by the British Petroleum Co. and the American Gulf Oil Corp. Output in 1959 topped 68 million tons of crude oil.

Kassem's claim seemed to signal a political—rather than military—campaign to take over the territory. The Iraqi soldier-leader announced Sunday he would send notes to all governments with the Baghdad authorities have relations setting forth his case.

But Iraq put up a belligerent front. A dispatch from Baghdad, the capital, said Iraq's army chief of staff cabled the premier pledges of support.

The chief of staff said the Iraqi army "who destroyed the fortress of imperialism in the Middle East is ready at your disposal."

There were repercussions in the Middle East, where the rival ambitions of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and those of Kassem have clashed.

A dispatch from Damascus said the Arab League Council might hold an urgent session soon to take up what was called the Iraq-Kuwait crisis.

Damascus newspapers bannered Kassem's claim without comment other than to call it a surprise. But Nasser has shown more than passing interest in Kuwait and its future.

Kassem told a news conference Sunday night the takeover would be peaceful and the ruling sheik, Sir Abdullah As-salim As'sabah, 66, would be named chief administrator of the 5,800-square-mile territory.

Kassem, who led the revolt that toppled Iraq's Hashemite monarchy in 1958, warned the sheik, however, that if he misused his office, he would be considered rebellious.

The British Foreign Office first comment was that "it is Kuwait's affair now." Diplomatic sources suggested, however, that Britain would be ready to move in with aid if Kuwait sought it.

When it ended the protectorate last week, Britain announced it would continue to guarantee Ku-

Man In Theft Case Placed On Probation

A 22-year-old Wellsville man was placed on probation by a Federal District Court judge at Cleveland Friday after pleading guilty to a charge of taking $3,500 from the vault of the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association of Wellsville.

William Ellis Porter, 2018 Buckeye Ave., was employed as a janitor at the financial institution when he took the money in April.

Porter was placed on eight months' probation by Judge Paul Jones.

A. U. S. attorney at Cleveland said three different versions were given as to how Porter obtained the money.

One was that the money was taken from the open vault during regular hours, the second was that Porter found a slip of paper with the vault combination and opened it himself and the third was that he found the money in an incinerator where it apparently had been accidentally tossed.

The FBI reported at the time that Porter took the money from the open vault during regular business hours. It was in banded bundles of $10 and $20 bills. Bank officials said the money never left the building, but was hidden

Prince Sees Quick End To Laotion Issue

GENEVA (AP) — An early end to the Laotian crisis is predicted by Prince Souvanna Phouma, the self-styled neutralist leader who is virtually certain to become the Southeast Asian kingdom's next premier.

Souvanna predicted a coalition government would be formed in Laos by July 20 but some American officials here said Souvanna appeared overconfident.

Souvanna told newsmen Sunday he will hold another meeting next month with the other two Laotian princes — pro-Western Boun Oum, premier of the royal Laotian government, and pro-Communist Souphanouvong of the Pathet Lao. He said they will draft a joint government proposal for presentation to King Savang Vathana, the ruler of the strategic jungle kingdom.

Souvanna added: "I could easily go to the king myself but this would be presumptuous. Any decision will be a joint one."

The three political princes at a meeting last week in Zurich agreed to ask the king to designate their future government "in the interest of perfect neutrality." But they did not go into details or make any specific nomination for premier.

At Port Of Barcelona

Army Garrison Revolts Against Venezula's Rule

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The army garrison in Barcelona revolted against President Romulo Betancourt today and loyal troops were sent to quell the uprising, the government announced.

Betancourt called on the garrison of Barcelona, reported to number 350 officers and men, to surrender or face an attack by loyal forces.

Barcelona is a Caribbean port of about 26,000 population some 135 miles east of Caracas, the capital.

The government said the rebellion was localized at Barcelona and that the Betancourt regime had the backing of all other members of the armed forces.

At La Guaira a sublieutenant of the national guard, the Federal Police, was reported to have led a detachment that tried to seize the electric power plant supplying Caracas. But loyal army forces drove off the rebels.

Outside Barcelona the country was reported quiet. Traffic was

GENEVA (AP) — An early end to the Laotian crisis is predicted by Prince Souvanna Phouma, the self-styled neutralist leader who is virtually certain to become the Southeast Asian kingdom's next premier.

Souvanna predicted a coalition government would be formed in Laos by July 20 but some American officials here said Souvanna appeared overconfident.

Souvanna told newsmen Sunday he will hold another meeting next month with the other two Laotian princes — pro-Western Boun Oum, premier of the royal Laotian government, and pro-Communist Souphanouvong of the Pathet Lao. He said they will draft a joint government proposal for presentation to King Savang Vathana, the ruler of the strategic jungle kingdom.

Souvanna added: "I could easily go to the king myself but this would be presumptuous. Any decision will be a joint one."

The three political princes at a meeting last week in Zurich agreed to ask the king to designate their future government "in the interest of perfect neutrality." But they did not go into details or make any specific nomination for premier.

Speculation Continues On Tractor Deal

Another Meeting May Be Held With Anti-Castro Men

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Ten anti-Castro prisoners awaited developments here today that might bring freedom to them and 1,187 of their comrades in Cuba.

John Hooker Jr., executive secretary of the dissolved Tractors for Freedom Committee, was expected to return from Miami this afternoon for his third meeting with the prisoners since their arrival from Havana Saturday.

Hooker has insisted he is not negotiating with the prisoners but only serving as a contact between them and the committee, Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Milton Eisenhower and Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers.

Informed sources said, however, that Hooker's continued contact with the prisoners indicated a new approach may be made to resume the stalemated negotiations.

Hooker said he could neither confirm nor deny such a possibility. One of the prisoners privately indicated that Hooker was offered a new proposal during his brief meeting with them Sunday.

Negotiations for the prisoners' release broke down Friday when Prime Minister Fidel Castro rejected a final offer of 500 general purpose tractors from the committee. Castro said then he would send 10 prisoners back to the United States to explain his position. The same prisoner group visited Miami and Washington last month after Castro first asked for 500 heavy tractors.

When asked about the $28 million estimated cost of the tractors demanded by Castro, Ulises Carbo, leader of the prisoner delegation, replied: "The tractors are worth $28 million in Cuba. They are much cheaper here," indicating that a face-saving formula may be found in a reduced figure.

Carbo told The Associated Press that Castro had given the prisoners "15 days or more" in which to complete their mission. "We still haven't decided whether we'll take all the time," he added.

Carbo also indicated the prisoners had reached no decision on whether they might make a direct public appeal for funds if no action is taken by the tractors committee.

"We are still thinking it over," he said.

Problem For Britain

Iraq May Annex Oil-Rich Region

LONDON (AP)—Britain rejected today Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's claim that the oil state of Kuwait belongs to Iraq.

At the same time, the Foreign Office disclosed that the British government has begun immediate consultations with the ruler of Kuwait over Kassem's move to annex the shiekdom, which lies next to Iraq. The ruler is Shiek Abdullah Al-salim As'sabah.

Britain ended its protectorate over Kuwait last week, but announced it would continue to guarantee Kuwait against aggression if the shiekdom asked for aid.

Oil resources in the 5,800-square-mile territory are worked by the Kuwait Oil Co.—jointly owned by the British Petroleum Co. and the American Gulf Oil Corp. Output in 1959 topped 68 million tons of crude oil.

Kassem's claim seemed to signal a political—rather than military—campaign to take over the territory. The Iraqi soldier-leader announced Sunday he would send notes to all governments with the Baghdad authorities have relations setting forth his case.

But Iraq put up a belligerent front. A dispatch from Baghdad, the capital, said Iraq's army chief of staff cabled the premier pledges of support.

The chief of staff said the Iraqi army "who destroyed the fortress of imperialism in the Middle East is ready at your disposal."

There were repercussions in the Middle East, where the rival ambitions of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and those of Kassem have clashed.

A dispatch from Damascus said the Arab League Council might hold an urgent session soon to take up what was called the Iraq-Kuwait crisis.

Damascus newspapers bannered Kassem's claim without comment other than to call it a surprise. But Nasser has shown more than passing interest in Kuwait and its future.

Kassem told a news conference Sunday night the takeover would be peaceful and the ruling sheik, Sir Abdullah As-salim As'sabah, 66, would be named chief administrator of the 5,800-square-mile territory.

Kassem, who led the revolt that toppled Iraq's Hashemite monarchy in 1958, warned the sheik, however, that if he misused his office, he would be considered rebellious.

The British Foreign Office first comment was that "it is Kuwait's affair now." Diplomatic sources suggested, however, that Britain would be ready to move in with aid if Kuwait sought it.

When it ended the protectorate last week, Britain announced it would continue to guarantee Ku-

Army Garrison Revolts Against Venezula's Rule

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The army garrison in Barcelona revolted against President Romulo Betancourt today and loyal troops were sent to quell the uprising, the government announced.

Betancourt called on the garrison of Barcelona, reported to number 350 officers and men, to surrender or face an attack by loyal forces.

Barcelona is a Caribbean port of about 26,000 population some 135 miles east of Caracas, the capital.

The government said the rebellion was localized at Barcelona and that the Betancourt regime had the backing of all other members of the armed forces.

At La Guaira a sublieutenant of the national guard, the Federal Police, was reported to have led a detachment that tried to seize the electric power plant supplying Caracas. But loyal army forces drove off the rebels.

Outside Barcelona the country was reported quiet. Traffic was

Tax Deadline Slated Friday

East Liverpool residents who are employed outside the city were reminded today by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson the second installment on their city income tax is due Friday.

All employers in the city and those outside who are withholding the tax will receive forms for remitting the tax for April, May and June in the mail by Saturday, Wilkinson said. These forms, along with the tax payments, are due in the tax office by July 30, he said.

About 95 per cent of the prospective taxpayers have complied with the law by filing estimates of their 1961 estimated earnings, Wilkinson said. The others must file the forms whether or not they have been employed since Jan. 27, when the tax went into effect, he said.

Failure of any taxpayer to receive the forms is no excuse for failure to make a declaration or return or to pay the tax, he warned.

The tax office in the basement of City Hall is open from 8:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a. m. until noon on Saturday. Persons with questions regarding the tax may telephone the office at FU. 5-5437, Wilkinson said.

Tests Heads Of AFL-CIO

UNITY HOUSE, Pa., (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders meet today in an effort to heal internal frictions that threaten to split the merger labor movement.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, is under attack from all sides on grounds he has wasted time in dealing with feuds among rival unions.

This has led to a suggestion from House Labor Committee Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., that Meany step aside.

The AFL-CIO is wracked with rival claims among unions of jurisdictional representation rights.

Meany has succeeded over the years in balancing these intricate inter-union claims — except that now the unions are more intense than ever in pushing their demands. The shortage of jobs has accentuated this rivalry.

Powell said last week that Meany should quit or beef up his union leadership to deal with alleged racial discrimination in unions and provide a stronger voice for labor in Congress.

Powell said that Meany was a zero as a labor leader — a charge that Meany retorted was not worthy of a reply.

'Is Berlin Last Straw?' German Official Asks

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS
New York Herald-Tribune

After his Camp David go around with President Eisenhower, including a helicopter ride to the Gettysburg farm, Soviet Premier Khrushchev decided to import an American whirlybird to Russia. After his tete-a-tete with President Kennedy in Vienna, Premier Khrushchev decided to import the fireside chat.

The Soviet leader's first personal television report to the Russian nation had one thing notably in common with President Kennedy's earlier summit summation. It was somber.

Indeed the speech fitted almost perfectly the quotation of William Lloyd Garrison cited by President Kennedy in Boston May 29 on the eve of his departure for the Summit sessions. This was: "I am in earnest. I will not equivocate. I will not excuse. I will not retreat a single inch, and I will be heard."

Now that the world's two most powerful statesmen have made plain that they will not retreat a single inch, the question arises of what will really happen.

A GOOD PLACE to begin is Berlin, which this writer has just visited. For here one is reminded of how enormous a bluff Premier Khrushchev is perpetrating and it is an item that no American should forget.

The central facts exposing Mr. Khrushchev's brand of Berlin brinkmanship are these: the Soviet Union lost millions of soldiers on the road to Berlin and those soldiers were killed by Germans.

In a showdown between the former enemy who now happens to be "Communist" Germany and the United States, it would be virtually impossible for Mr. Khrushchev to get the Russian people behind him in going to war to rescue the Germans. And contrary to what is thought, Mr. Khrushchev does have to pay some attention to what the Russian people think.

OR AS A POLISH Communist put it: "Nobody on our side is going to go to war to uphold the right of some Germans to turn back American supply trucks en route to Berlin.

"If America shoots some Germans in the process of shooting its way into the city, everyone on our side would be cheering—secretly of course—for the Americans. The saying goes in Warsaw that the old man in Bonn (West German Chancellor Adenauer) and our Gomqlka (the Polish Communist chief) have one thing in common — a dislike for Europe's bearded one (Walter Ulbricht, the goateed leader of Communist East Germany). And this is true."

An additional point was made by West Berlin's indomitable Mayor Willy Brandt in an interview: "If there should be the use of force — even on a tiny scale—against the Americans, then I cannot begin to describe the explosion that would occur against the Communists inside East Germany.

"The men and women of East Germany fought with their bare hands against the Russians once before (the revolt of July, 1953 in which Germans hurled stones at Russian tanks.)

"If fighting broke out, the Russians would be under attack behind their own lines by the people of East Germany. Talk to anyone who has been in East Germany in the past few months and you will see that I am right. . . ."

DESPITE ALL the reassurances of President Kennedy, there remains a certain doubt in Berlin — a fear that America is so occupied with its own position that it fails to take into account Mr. Khrushchev's problems.

Said a high German official: "Is Berlin really the last straw in your dealings with the Russians. Have you really decided this far and no further? Or is it the next to the last, last straw?

"Why do we doubt? Not because of anything that President Kennedy has said or done about Germany. At Vienna he was magnificent. But elsewhere in Loas for instance, the President has said something was the last straw then retreated.

"He said that America would not go to the Geneva Conference unless there was a cease fire in Laos. There is no cease fire in Laos but even so you remain at the Geneva conference.

"And on nuclear testing, you have threatened much but done nothing. Is Berlin a different case?

Is Berlin America's Poland, or America's Czechslovakia?

"I ask, because it is Khrushchev who profits from the doubt. Khrushchev has a weak hand in Germany but the element of doubt makes him feel stronger than he is."

Tax Deadline Slated Friday

East Liverpool residents who are employed outside the city were reminded today by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson the second installment on their city income tax is due Friday.

All employers in the city and those outside who are withholding the tax will receive forms for remitting the tax for April, May and June in the mail by Saturday, Wilkinson said. These forms, along with the tax payments, are due in the tax office by July 30, he said.

About 95 per cent of the prospective taxpayers have complied with the law by filing estimates of their 1961 estimated earnings, Wilkinson said. The others must file the forms whether or not they have been employed since Jan. 27, when the tax went into effect, he said.

Failure of any taxpayer to receive the forms is no excuse for failure to make a declaration or return or to pay the tax, he warned.

The tax office in the basement of City Hall is open from 8:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a. m. until noon on Saturday. Persons with questions regarding the tax may telephone the office at FU. 5-5437, Wilkinson said.

Tests Heads Of AFL-CIO

UNITY HOUSE, Pa., (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders meet today in an effort to heal internal frictions that threaten to split the merger labor movement.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, is under attack from all sides on grounds he has wasted time in dealing with feuds among rival unions.

This has led to a suggestion from House Labor Committee Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., that Meany step aside.

The AFL-CIO is wracked with rival claims among unions of jurisdictional representation rights.

Meany has succeeded over the years in balancing these intricate inter-union claims — except that now the unions are more intense than ever in pushing their demands. The shortage of jobs has accentuated this rivalry.

Powell said last week that Meany should quit or beef up his union leadership to deal with alleged racial discrimination in unions and provide a stronger voice for labor in Congress.

Powell said that Meany was a zero as a labor leader — a charge that Meany retorted was not worthy of a reply.

'Is Berlin Last Straw?' German Official Asks

New York Herald-Tribune

After his Camp David go around with President Eisenhower, including a helicopter ride to the Gettysburg farm, Soviet Premier Khrushchev decided to import an American whirlybird to Russia. After his tete-a-tete with President Kennedy in Vienna, Premier Khrushchev decided to import the fireside chat.

The Soviet leader's first personal television report to the Russian nation had one thing notably in common with President Kennedy's earlier summit summation. It was somber.

Indeed the speech fitted almost perfectly the quotation of William Lloyd Garrison cited by President Kennedy in Boston May 29 on the eve of his departure for the Summit sessions. This was: "I am in earnest. I will not equivocate. I will not excuse. I will not retreat a single inch, and I will be heard."

Now that the world's two most powerful statesmen have made plain that they will not retreat a single inch, the question arises of what will really happen.

A GOOD PLACE to begin is Berlin, which this writer has just visited. For here one is reminded of how enormous a bluff Premier Khrushchev is perpetrating and it is an item that no American should forget.

The central facts exposing Mr. Khrushchev's brand of Berlin brinkmanship are these: the Soviet Union lost millions of soldiers on the road to Berlin and those soldiers were killed by Germans.

In a showdown between the former enemy who now happens to be "Communist" Germany and the United States, it would be virtually impossible for Mr. Khrushchev to get the Russian people behind him in going to war to rescue the Germans. And contrary to what is thought, Mr. Khrushchev does have to pay some attention to what the Russian people think.

OR AS A POLISh Communist put it: "Nobody on our side is going to go to war to uphold the right of some Germans to turn back American supply trucks en route to Berlin.

"If America shoots some Germans in the process of shooting its way into the city, everyone on our side would be cheering—secretly of course—for the Americans. The saying goes in Warsaw that the old man in Bonn (West German Chancellor Adenauer) and our Gomolka (the Polish Communist chief) have one thing in common — a dislike for Europe's bearded one (Walter Ulbricht, the goateed leader of Communist East Germany). And this is true."

An additional point was made by West Berlin's indomitable Mayor Willy Brandt in an interview: "If there should be the use of force — even on a tiny scale—against the Americans, then I cannot begin to describe the explosion that would occur against the Communists inside East Germany.

"The men and women of East Germany fought with their bare hands against the Russians once before (the revolt of July, 1953 in which Germans hurled stones at Russian tanks.)

"If fighting broke out, the Russians would be under attack behind their own lines by the people of East Germany. Talk to anyone who has been in East Germany in the past few months and you will see that I am right. . . ."

DESPITE ALL the reassurances of President Kennedy, there remains a certain doubt in Berlin — a fear that America is so occupied with its own position that it fails to take into account Mr. Khrushchev's problems.

Said a high German official: "Is Berlin really the last straw in your dealings with the Russians. Have you really decided this far and no further? Or is it the next to the last, last straw?

"Why do we doubt? Not because of anything that President Kennedy has said or done about Germany. At Vienna he was magnificent. But elsewhere in Loas for instance, the President has said something was the last straw then retreated.

"He said that America would not go to the Geneva Conference unless there was a cease fire in Laos. There is no cease fire in Laos but even so you remain at the Geneva conference.

"And on nuclear testing, you have threatened much but done nothing. Is Berlin a different case?

Is Berlin America's Poland, or America's Czechslovakia?

"I ask, because it is Khrushchev who profits from the doubt. Khrushchev has a weak hand in Germany but the element of doubt makes him feel stronger than he is."

Castro Performed As Advertised

So much has been surmised about Fidel Castro and the tractor deal that some of us surmisers have lost sight of the central fact.

As such, he is under obligation to practice the Communist art of dialectics—the least understood yet the most understandable tactic of the Marxist cult.

In the trained hands of Communists, it is the art of driving an adversary out of his mind with quibbling.

Party-line Communists, whether they are in the Kremlin or in Cuba, use negotiation to wear out the patience of the opposition. They are not trying to reach solutions but to prevent understanding.

Their aim is to befuddle and discourage their opponents so completely they will despair of ever reaching a meeting of minds with Communists.

Once they have reached that state of mind, anti-Communists, it is theorized, will be more receptive to the suggestion that the only way to have peace in the world is to knuckle under to the Communist Conspiracy.

It is precisely the tactic used to brainwash non-Communists. It was used by the Red Chinese against Americans in the Korean War. It was even used by Communists against other Communists during the Stalin purges in the '30s.

Fidel Castro should not have been taken at his word when he mentioned the possibility of trading his own countrymen for U.S.-made tractors. He should not have been permitted to drag on his dialectical exercise. And of a certainty he should not be allowed to keep it going any longer.

He has rejected the latest offer of the misguided and now disillusioned Americans who were sucked into his scheme. That should be the end of it. The Cuban dictator has proved once more what no longer needs proving: That some of the American people can be fooled all the time.

Does Speed Help?

The president of the American College of Surgeons has offered some pertinent observations relative to speeding ambulances.

Dr. I. S. Radvin, in an article by John Troan, medical reporter of The Pittsburgh Press, advanced the following comment:

"As a nation, we seem to be more concerned about getting a patient to a hospital than about having a competent staff there to take care of him."

Local and district ambulance drivers might ponder the noted surgeon's words. There have been times when ambulances have been seen dashing over East Liverpool streets at questionable speeds in view of the traffic congestion at the time.

Handle With Care

Virtually every week since grass-cutting season arrived East Liverpool and other district hospitals have carried on their emergency lists accidents resulting from the use of rotary power mowers.

In most cases the mishaps have been the result of carelessness on the part of the user. Power mowers do the job for which they were constructed. There's nothing more suitable for trimming grass or clearing a growth of weeds. Such mowers, however, can be dangerous if not handled properly.

Many accidents result from objects sent flying by the rapidly - whirling blades. For example, a 13-year-old Detroit girl was killed when the mower she was using picked up a small piece of metal and drove it into her heart. There have been other fatalities and near fatalities.

This should be a cardinal rule before mowing any plot of ground: Do everything possible to make certain there are no small pieces of metal or objects of a similar nature laying around.

Adequate precautions could prevent serious injury or even death.

The Volunteers

Though school is out, the district's teenagers still have plenty of worthwhile activities to occupy their time.

Bible schools, camps, baseball leagues, 4-H, fishing derbies and many other outdoor recreational programs are either in progress or in the offing.

Behind such activities lies much planning. Paid personnel do a lot of the work, but many, many hours are contributed by volunteer workers. To them it is a labor of love, with the enjoyment the youngsters derive from the activities their reward.

Most of the programs would have a difficult time of it were it not for the volunteers ever ready to lend a helping hand. They perform an outstanding service year in and year out and help supply a rather clear-cut answer to the lament of many youngsters: "There's no where to go. What can we do?"

The fortunate thing is that when the ranks of the volunteers show signs of thinning newcomers are on hand to move in and keep the ball rolling.

Champs Again!

The drill squad of Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9285 has added a second straight state championship to its trophy room.

The Wellsville squad won't get a chance to rest on its laurels for long. It will get back to work soon in preparation for the national contest in Florida.

The district's best wishes will go with the squad when it heads south later.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Call for spirit of sacrifice by public to face problems of cold war is renewed through Russian attitude. Implication is the struggle will be a long one and that it can't be won through American devotion to luxury, free wheeling, cozy living and gimmie - gimme routines.

Mr. and Mrs. America are asking, "Shall we dance?" while Russians concentrate on "Shall we orbit?" Our folks suggest "Let's get a second car on time." Russians say, "Everybody tighten up while we get man on moon at once."

Khrushchev keeps eye on the planets while we keep ours on the golf ball, the home-plate, the thruway speed signs and the gas gauge. He chirps "There is no time to be wasted; this is one of the most critical times in history."

The American response is "Don't rush me." Russian kid's first question on a job is "Okay, what's to do?" American kids first question is, "What are the hours. Is it the five-day week and what about my pension rights?"

Russian scientists get the best of everything. Our scientists get investigated. Moscow national slogan is, "Let's rule the earth from other planets. Washington says, "The matter has been referred to a commission." Other differences follow:—

Russian: "Where's the pad for the next moon trip?"

American: "Where's the next luxury hotel?"

Russian: "Outer space, anyone?"

American: "All those asking better thruways, better recreation programs, better housing and more cream on the strawberries, say 'aye'."

American: "Hop in my new compact and we'll go to the track and see if we can win the daily double."

WHAT AMERICA NEEDS most is a return to Bible reading in the home, and a place on the table for a family Bible. There have been few times in history when the Good Book was so badly needed as a guide to behavior and a strengthening influence in a day of deadly peril.

All though the years when the U.S. was building itself up in the eyes of all people, the Bible was a "must" in most homes. Families had Bible readings. The book was kept in a prominent place where the kids would see it, respect it and read it, finding beautiful writing, wonderful stories and high drama. It doesn't figure as it once did even in the church, when the pastor could hold the congregation spellbound by sermons based on Bible chapters and little else.

In the schoolroom even the common prayers which once marked opening of every class, with nobody dissenting, have been ruled out or prayer boiled down in spirit and beauty. The Supreme Court has just ruled that a candidate for office need not take the oath accepted for generations in most states. What is "our refuge and our strength" of the young today? The TV, the corner movie, the Hollywood scene, doings in Las Vegas and the invitation to a street riot.

Yale gave an honorary degree to Aladdin and Wonderful Lamp the other day. Real name was Richard Lee, mayor of New Haven, seat of Yale. He never went to college but his reconstruction job has attracted attention all over nation. Degree could have been Doctor of Bulldozing or Master of Swift Scenic Changes. (In Eli commencement parade mayor had to walk a block without tearing down a single structure). He stood it fairly well.

Yale grads and former residents returning to New Haven will never know the old place. Entire streets have gone and scores of buildings disappeared. Theatrical old timers will be interested to learn that two Poli theaters, Palace and Bijou, are no more and that Oneco Hotel, for years known to vaudeville folks, is only a memory. Temple St., site of original Mory's, has been largely effaced.

Unions Clash, Public's In Middle

By Victor Riesel

It's almost unbelievable. But it's all on motion pictures, and in color, too. These films give a blow by blow description of one union declaring war on another. The first, rougher union wanted the jobs held by the second union's members—so the first outfit simply ripped the tools and building material out of the hands of men working on a housing project.

Victor Riesel

Work was shut down for six weeks. Thousands of dollars were lost. And the public paid, too, when the government had to move in.

It began last March. There were 12 union carpenters employed by Cement Work Inc. This firm was in the process of providing concrete and brick work services for builders of an apartment development in a suburb—East Orange, N. J.

The company also employed hod carriers and common laborers, members of Local 502. The hod carriers simply decided they wanted the 12 carpenters' jobs.

ON MARCH 1, the carpenters were stripping pans and beams from hardened concrete and began carrying them to the next point where concrete would be poured.

Suddenly a squad of hod carriers moved in from another location on the construction site. They simply left their work. They then ripped "two-by-fours" (pieces of lumber), crowbars and jacks from the hands of the carpenters.

The latter were outnumbered almost four to one. Without their boards and tools they couldn't work.

Next day the carpenters arrived. This time two or three hod carriers converged on each of the carpenters. Again the laborers tore the tools from the carpenters' hands. This was getting to be a habit. So a carpenters' business agent, Gerard Sassone, decided to put it all on record.

He got himself an 8-mm color camera. Next time the be-muscled hod carriers grabbed the carpenters' tools and supplies from their hands, it was all "taken down" by movies.

FINALLY the contractor had to shut down operations for six weeks. He was caught in the middle. The firm had to lay off the carpenters because of the threats and violence of the hod carriers.

Then the battle was tossed into the lap of the regional National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) headed by John Cuneo. There were — and are — petitions and cross petitions.

There have been all sorts of hearings, drawing of complaints, viewing of motion pictures, scheduling of full debate, postponements — and finally the official testimony will be taken by the board on July 24.

All this costs money — your money. Government officials phones, investigators, long documents don't come free.

Multiply this by hundreds of such hearings across the land and you get the high cost to the public of this type of regional labor imperialism.

Not included in this are the lost wages, the lost profits and the taxes the government would take if there were no such jurisdictional warfare.

Here, the hod carriers and the carpenters are construction unions in a civil war of their own. But there is another type of labor war. Just as often the construction unions band together and fight the industrial unions.

TYPICAL is the feud at a new American Cyanamide Co., acrylic fiber factory near Milton, Fla. The construction-labor combination wanted each craft in the plant to sign with a different union.

The industrial union bloc, led by Walter Reuther's colleagues and, oddly enough, John Lewis' union as well, wanted one big plantwide union to cover all production and maintenance workers.

No one questioned the unionization of the new installation. It was merely a question of which union officials would speak for the men. This made more work for the NLRB. And more expenses for the taxpayers. Also more headaches for the workers and the company. Why?

These feuds, these wars within wars, are typical of the rancor which has all but split the AFL-CIO. There will be conciliation efforts made at labor's high command session at Unity House, Pa. But the wars won't be settled. The fight will head for the floor of the national convention next Dec. 7 in Miami Beach.

At that time some of the national labor chiefs may take a walk right out of the AFL-CIO. And then this country will see some real feuding — with the public caught right in the middle.

A Place At The Top

By Truman Twill

I haven't had a chance since I visited the Bell Laboratories at Murray Hill, N.J., to talk to my friend whose son wants to be an electronics engineer. This is what I want to tell him:

The hardest part of education, provided the Good Lord furnished the ability to learn, is incentive. Kids botch up their education because they won't work at it, not because they can't do the job.

They see no purpose in what they are asked to do. The droning recitations, the tests, the reading, the repetition and so on make no sense. And this is easy to understand. There's no sense to be made.

These things represent only the absence of the kind of education that would be possible if all teachers were first-rate and all students could be grouped according to their teachability. It's a miracle anyone exposed to this mockery of education succeeds in rising above it. But many do.

My friend's son did, and he has been admitted to a top-flight engineering school, where his problem will continue to be of the same nature but in lesser degree, perhaps, than before. That is, he now will have a strong incentive to make good in order to avoid being sent home as a failure.

Being older than before, he will have a stronger incentive to prepare himself for a career of earning. But there still will be times when he will wonder what it all adds up to; whether the eye strain, headaches, the churning belly, dry mouth and the wet-handed fear of failure are worth it.

So what I want my friend's boy and every boy to know is that in places like the Bell Laboratories there are thousands of highly educated people, and the demand for more is insatiable. The eggheads of today have something to sell in a seller's market.

A good academic record is a passkey to inclusion in a growing brotherhood of organized intellectualism in the United States. Not all the branches of the brotherhood are as plush as the setup at Murray Hill, but all branches of the brotherhood make it worthwhile for young men and young women who racked up good records in their preparatory years.

Laboratories, factories and offices that spend big money for top talent these days don't wait for Mahomet to wander to the mountain. They meet Mahomet three-fourths of the way and take him down the last stretch of the journey in a company limousine.

The education they are willing to pay for no longer stops at four years of college. Get-aheads now must go to graduate school and get some degrees to string behind their names. That can be arranged for the ones who have found the secret of incentive. They are a good investment—the "bonus kids" of intellectualism.

To do well in high school, a student should have started to do well in elementary school.

He cannot get into a good college if he has not done well in high school, and he cannot break into a top graduate school if he has not done well in college.

And after that he cannot hope to pick off one of those satisfying places in the scientific brotherhood if he has not distinguished himself in graduate school.

Obviously, not everybody is going to hit the top; the competition is tough. But just as obviously the chance to get there is an incentive that can drive thousands of students into greater effort than students ever made before.

Two Basic Questions

By James Marlow

Berlin Situation In A Nutshell

WASHINGTON

The aching problem of West Berlin can be stated now in two basic questions even though discussion about it will get deafening in the months ahead.

1. Will the West, particularly the United States, make concessions to Premier Khrushchev to avoid a showdown on his demands that West Berlin be turned into a so-called free city 110 miles inside Communist East Germany?

2. If the answer is no, what will the West do if the Russians then force a showdown by trying to shut the city off from the West through force or a strict blockade against supplies for the 2.5 million people in West Berlin?

The demands Khrushchev is making now on Berlin are similar to those he made in 1958. Then he gave the West six months for a settlement. Later he backed off and calmed down. Now once again he has set a six-month deadline.

This time there's no reason to think he doesn't mean it.

At this moment the West has strong links with West Berlin. If those links are badly broken, it seems inevitable that eventually West Berlin, now a Western island in a Communist sea, will be completely lost.

At first—because the deadline is still months away — President Kennedy's administration probably will utter a firm no against any concessions that would look like a Western defeat although some concessions might seem possible.

As the months roll on—particularly as Democrats and Republicans have time to sound off—the Kennedy administration will learn more about the mood of the American people: whether they are willing to face war over Berlin.

This undoubtedly will have effect on administration thinking. Meanwhile, the allies in Europe, who would be closer to the scene of war, will have time to see how sturdy their own willingness is to face ruin for Berlin.

But suppose the West stands firm, which might mean war? What kind of war would it be—a limited, groundlike kind of war without resort to nuclear missiles or weapons?

A limited ground war seems unlikely. Khrushchev started his first buildup toward a West Berlin crisis with demands he made on Thanksgiving Day in 1958.

President Eisenhower, at every news conference he held for months afterward, was belted with questions about Berlin. On March 11, 1959, he laid out the American position on fighting for Berlin.

Pointing out that the 175 Russian divisions far outnumbered any forces the United States could send into Europe to defend Berlin, Eisenhower said, "we are certainly not going to fight a ground war in Europe. What good would it do to send a few more thousand or indeed even a few divisions of troops to Europe?"

Then, although deploring nuclear war as a self-defeating thing because of its enormous destruction, he added: "Therefore, we have got to stand right ready and say 'we will do what is necessary to protect ourselves but we are never going to back up on our rights and our responsibilities."

This was a clear implication the United States would use nuclear weapons if necessary to protect what it considers Western rights in Berlin.

At this moment, at least, this could be interpreted as also the position of the Kennedy administration. Last Friday Kennedy hastily assembled his top advisers for a White House conference and reviewed Soviet threats to Berlin.

Afterward Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, one of those at the meeting, was asked at a news conference about increasing American defense in Berlin where the United States, Britain and France have a token force of troops.

He said there are "no plans at this time to increase the garrison" or add to its weapons. "Our military department," he said, "is sufficiently strong to accomplish its purpose."

This sounded like Eisenhower at a similar period in the Berlin crisis two years ago.

Making Haste Slowly

By Philip Deane

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

The president of the Dominican Republic, Joaquin Delaguer, a difficent man, who sits pigeon-toed and seems unhappy with the international press, says his country wants to cooperate with the democracies. The Dominican Republic, he adds, has nothing to hide. It wants to belong again to the confraternity of the Free World, but can reform only slowly.

After the assassination of dictator Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, his friends from the international set are here to preach the same gospel: Reform can be only slow, because if you push too hard you get a Castro.

A French publisher says his friend Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr. simply wants to get out of being the Republic's new ruler: "You do not think he wants to live here?" he asks, contemplating the sparkling pool of the luxurious hotel at which the press is encouraged to stay because, as a foreign diplomat puts it, the rooms are conveniently wired for sound.

An American gossip columnist a lawyer, also from the U.S., two former U.S. ambassadors, a New York public relations man called Bill Peers — all have the same message. They assert that the present Dominican raging is better than the "Cuban police state."

A EUROPEAN diplomat invited me to dinner the other evening, and found the man at the next table very intent on hearing our conversation. "Do you mind removing your ear from my plate?" asked my host.

In three rhododendron bushes next to the terrace where we are, three little men went on diligently listening. So for the time being we talked only about Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker and the Common Market.

A police car with two machine guns cruised around the block. "Let us ride in my car so we can talk," said the diplomat.

We were then escorted along the drive by the car with the machine guns. It was not one of the standard cars of the military security forces; those had been taken off the street the day before the mission of the Organization of the American States arrived to investigate the alleged Dominican reforms. Until then such cars had cruised the streets day and night.

But other security measures still operate. The house of every Trujillo relative, every bridge, every public building, every crossroad is covered by tough cops with machine guns. The presidential palace, which is the seat of government, cannot be photographed without special permission, which I am still trying to get.

There is much argument between the press and the diplomatic corps. Several anti-Trujillo personalities have vanished and the press wants to publish their names.

The diplomats disagree, saying the present regime must not be pushed too hard too fast, because it might simply cancel even the little it is doing in the way of opening itself to public scrutiny and because the families of the personalities in question might suffer.

The families, in fact, prefer not to have names mentioned. It does not pay to make a fuss.

THE GENERALISSIMO is dead, and his chief of police, Col. Johnny Abbes Garcia, has been sent to Tokyo as first secretary of the embassy there. But in the entourage of generalissimo's son, are men whose names strike terror in the hearts of Dominicans. These men have such nicknames as "razor-blades," and "eyes", alluding to the former's favorite instrument and the latter's favorite point of attack.

It is not certain whether young Trujillo has kept these men, or whether he rules by their leave. They are the leaders of the Praetorian Guard, and since the old Caesar is dead any of these feared captains could plot for succession.

The plotting would not be easy, and would take time, partly because it was old Trujillo's policy to keep his army dispersed in small detachments around the country. No general could easily concentrate a force large enough to challenge the center of power.

So far these men who are at the center are holding together. None of them has a national reputation. Some of the men involved in the assassination plot (such as Gen. Ramon Fernandez, the former Defense Minister) might have developed a following but these man were struck down before they could follow up the murder.

Castro Performed As Advertised

So much has been surmised about Fidel Castro and the tractor deal that some of us surmisers have lost sight of the central fact.

As such, he is under obligation to practice the Communist art of dialectics—the least understood yet the most understandable tactic of the Marxist cult.

Dialectics is the art of disputation.

In the trained hands of Communists, it is the art of driving an adversary out of his mind with quibbling.

Party-line Communists, whether they are in the Kremlin or in Cuba, use negotiation to wear out the patience of the opposition. They are not trying to reach solutions but to prevent understanding.

Their aim is to befuddle and discourage their opponents so completely they will despair of ever reaching a meeting of minds with Communists.

Once they have reached that state of mind, anti-Communists, it is theorized, will be more receptive to the suggestion that the only way to have peace in the world is to knuckle under to the Communist Conspiracy.

It is precisely the tactic used to brainwash non-Communists. It was used by the Red Chinese against Americans in the Korean War. It was even used by Communists against other Communists during the Stalin purges in the '30s.

Fidel Castro should not have been taken at his word when he mentioned the possibility of trading his own countrymen for U.S.-made tractors. He should not have been permitted to drag on his dialectical exercise. And of a certainty he should not be allowed to keep it going any longer.

He has rejected the latest offer of the misguided and now disillusioned Americans who were sucked into his scheme. That should be the end of it. The Cuban dictator has proved once more what no longer needs proving: That some of the American people can be fooled all the time.

Handle With Care

Virtually every week since grass-cutting season arrived East Liverpool and other district hospitals have carried on their emergency lists accidents resulting from the use of rotary power mowers.

In most cases the mishaps have been the result of carelessness on the part of the user. Power mowers do the job for which they were constructed. There's nothing more suitable for trimming grass or clearing a growth of weeds. Such mowers, however, can be dangerous if not handled properly.

Many accidents result from objects sent flying by the rapidly - whirling blades. For example, a 13-year-old Detroit girl was killed when the mower she was using picked up a small piece of metal and drove it into her heart. There have been other fatalities and near fatalities.

This should be a cardinal rule before mowing any plot of ground: Do everything possible to make certain there are no small pieces of metal or objects of a similar nature laying around.

Adequate precautions could prevent serious injury or even death.

The Volunteers

Though school is out, the district's teenagers still have plenty of worthwhile activities to occupy their time.

Bible schools, camps, baseball leagues, 4-H, fishing derbies and many other outdoor recreational programs are either in progress or in the offing.

Behind such activities lies much planning. Paid personnel do a lot of the work, but many, many hours are contributed by volunteer workers. To them it is a labor of love, with the enjoyment the youngsters derive from the activities their reward.

Most of the programs would have a difficult time of it were it not for the volunteers ever ready to lend a helping hand. They perform an outstanding service year in and year out and help supply a rather clear-cut answer to the lament of many youngsters: "There's no where to go. What can we do?"

The fortunate thing is that when the ranks of the volunteers show signs of thinning newcomers are on hand to move in and keep the ball rolling.

Does Speed Help?

The president of the American College of Surgeons has offered some pertinent observations relative to speeding ambulances.

Dr. I. S. Radvin, in an article by John Troan, medical reporter of The Pittsburgh Press, advanced the following comment:

"Lives aren't saved by speeding ambulances.

"As a nation, we seem to be more concerned about getting a patient to a hospital than about having a competent staff there to take care of him."

Local and district ambulance drivers might ponder the noted surgeon's words. There have been times when ambulances have been seen dashing over East Liverpool streets at questionable speeds in view of the traffic congestion at the time.

Champs Again!

The drill squad of Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9285 has added a second straight state championship to its trophy room.

The Wellsville squad won't get a chance to rest on its laurels for long. It will get back to work soon in preparation for the national contest in Florida.

The district's best wishes will go with the squad when it heads south later.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Call for spirit of sacrifice by public to face problems of cold war is renewed through Russian attitude. Implication is the struggle will be a long one and that it can't be won through American devotion to luxury, free wheeling, cozy living and gimmie - gimme routines.

Mr. and Mrs. America are asking, "Shall we dance?" while Russians concentrate on "Shall we orbit?" Our folks suggest "Let's get a second car on time." Russians say, "Everybody tighten up while we get man on moon at once."

Khrushchev keeps eye on the planets while we keep ours on the golf ball, the home-plate, the thruway speed signs and the gas gauge. He chirps "There is no time to be wasted; this is one of the most critical times in history."

The American response is "Don't rush me." Russian kid's first question on a job is "Okay, what's to do?" American kids first question is, "What are the hours. Is it the five-day week and what about my pension rights?"

Russian scientists get the best of everything. Our scientists get investigated. Moscow national slogan is, "Let's rule the earth from other planets. Washington says, "The matter has been referred to a commission." Other differences follow:—

Russian: "Where's the pad for the next moon trip?"

American: "Where's the next luxury hotel?"

Russian: "Outer space, anyone?"

American: "All those asking better thruways, better recreation programs, better housing and more cream on the strawberries, say 'aye'."

American: "Hop in my new compact and we'll go to the track and see if we can win the daily double."

WHAT AMERICA NEEDS most is a return to Bible reading in the home, and a place on the table for a family Bible. There have been few times in history when the Good Book was so badly needed as a guide to behavior and a strengthening influence in a day of deadly peril.

All though the years when the U.S. was building itself up in the eyes of all people, the Bible was a "must" in most homes. Families had Bible readings. The book was kept in a prominent place where the kids would see it, respect it and read it, finding beautiful writing, wonderful stories and high drama. It doesn't figure as it once did even in the church, when the pastor could hold the congregation spellbound by sermons based on Bible chapters and little else.

In the schoolroom even the common prayers which once marked opening of every class, with nobody dissenting, have been ruled out or prayer boiled down in spirit and beauty. The Supreme Court has just ruled that a candidate for office need not take the oath accepted for generations in most states. What is "our refuge and our strength" of the young today? The TV, the corner movie, the Hollywood scene, doings in Las Vegas and the invitation to a street riot.

Yale gave an honorary degree to Aladdin and Wonderful Lamp the other day. Real name was Richard Lee, mayor of New Haven, seat of Yale. Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Miss Marjorie Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall of Wyoming Pl. Pleasant Heights, received a senior scholarship for "excellent work" at Battle Creek (Mich.) College, where she was a junior in the home economics department.

In a comedy of errors and base hits, brightened by some fine relief hurling by Al Johnson, the Chester News Nine pounded out a 17-7 victory over the Potters Supply.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—A class of 175 candidates was initiated by East Liverpool Aerie 457, Fraternal Order of Eagles, in honor of Earl Ramsey, George P. Wilson and Harley Anthony, trustees.

Nola Jean Rankin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rankin of Glenmoor, for the second consecutive year won the Scripture memorization contest which featured the vacation Bible School at the First Methodist Church.

TEN YEARS AGO — The interior and exterior of the Ashbaugh grocery and filling station in Calcutta were scorched when lightning struck a TV antenna.

The Rev. William A. Hewitt was returned as pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church.

Two Basic Questions

By James Marlow

Berlin Situation In A Nutshell

WASHINGTON

The aching problem of West Berlin can be stated now in two basic questions even though discussion about it will get deafening in the months ahead.

1. Will the West, particularly the United States, make concessions to Premier Khrushchev to avoid a showdown on his demands that West Berlin be turned into a so-called free city 110 miles inside Communist East Germany?

2. If the answer is no, what will the West do if the Russians then force a showdown by trying to shut the city off from the West through force or a strict blockade against supplies for the 2.5 million people in West Berlin?

The demands Khrushchev is making now on Berlin are similar to those he made in 1958. Then he gave the West six months for a settlement. Later he backed off and calmed down. Now once again he has set a six-month deadline.

This time there's no reason to think he doesn't mean it.

At this moment the West has strong links with West Berlin. If those links are badly broken, it seems inevitable that eventually West Berlin, now a Western island in a Communist sea, will be completely lost.

At first—because the deadline is still months away — President Kennedy's administration probably will utter a firm no against any concessions that would look like a Western defeat although some concessions might seem possible.

As the months roll on—particularly as Democrats and Republicans have time to sound off—the Kennedy administration will learn more about the mood of the American people: whether they are willing to face war over Berlin.

This undoubtedly will have effect on administration thinking. Meanwhile, the allies in Europe, who would be closer to the scene of war, will have time to see how sturdy their own willingness is to face ruin for Berlin.

But suppose the West stands firm, which might mean war? What kind of war would it be—a limited, groundlike kind of war without resort to nuclear missiles or weapons?

A limited ground war seems unlikely. Khrushchev started his first buildup toward a West Berlin crisis with demands he made on Thanksgiving Day in 1958.

President Eisenhower, at every news conference he held for months afterward, was belted with questions about Berlin. On March 11, 1959, he laid out the American position on fighting for Berlin.

Pointing out that the 175 Russian divisions far outnumbered any forces the United States could send into Europe to defend Berlin, Eisenhower said, "we are certainly not going to fight a ground war in Europe. What good would it do to send a few more thousand or indeed even a few divisions of troops to Europe?"

Then, although deploring nuclear war as a self-defeating thing because of its enormous destruction, he added: "Therefore, we have got to stand right ready and say 'we will do what is necessary to protect ourselves but we are never going to back up on our rights and our responsibilities."

This was a clear implication the United States would use nuclear weapons if necessary to protect what it considers Western rights in Berlin.

At this moment, at least, this could be interpreted as also the position of the Kennedy administration. Last Friday Kennedy hastily assembled his top advisers for a White House conference and reviewed Soviet threats to Berlin.

Afterward Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, one of those at the meeting, was asked at a news conference about increasing American defense in Berlin where the United States, Britain and France have a token force of troops.

He said there are "no plans at this time to increase the garrison" or add to its weapons. "Our military department," he said, "is sufficiently strong to accomplish its purpose."

This sounded like Eisenhower at a similar period in the Berlin crisis two years ago.

Making Haste Slowly

By Philip Deane

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

The president of the Dominican Republic, Joaquin Delaguer, a difficent man, who sits pigeon-toed and seems unhappy with the international press, says his country wants to cooperate with the democracies. The Dominican Republic, he adds, has nothing to hide. It wants to belong again to the confraternity of the Free World, but can reform only slowly.

After the assassination of dictator Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, his friends from the international set are here to preach the same gospel: Reform can be only slow, because if you push too hard you get a Castro.

A French publisher says his friend Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr. simply wants to get out of being the Republic's new ruler: "You do not think he wants to live here?" he asks, contemplating the sparkling pool of the luxurious hotel at which the press is encouraged to stay because, as a foreign diplomat puts it, the rooms are conveniently wired for sound.

An American gossip columnist a lawyer, also from the U.S., two former U.S. ambassadors, a New York public relations man called Bill Peers — all have the same message. They assert that the present Dominican raging is better than the "Cuban police state."

A EUROPEAN diplomat invited me to dinner the other evening, and found the man at the next table very intent on hearing our conversation. "Do you mind removing your ear from my plate?" asked my host.

In three rhododendron bushes next to the terrace where we are, three little men went on diligently listening. So for the time being we talked only about Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker and the Common Market.

A police car with two machine guns cruised around the block. "Let us ride in my car so we can talk," said the diplomat.

We were then escorted along the drive by the car with the machine guns. It was not one of the standard cars of the military security forces; those had been taken off the street the day before the mission of the Organization of the American States arrived to investigate the alleged Dominican reforms. Until then such cars had cruised the streets day and night.

But other security measures still operate. The house of every Trujillo relative, every bridge, every public building, every crossroad is covered by tough cops with machine guns. The presidential palace, which is the seat of government, cannot be photographed without special permission, which I am still trying to get.

There is much argument between the press and the diplomatic corps. Several anti-Trujillo personalities have vanished and the press wants to publish their names.

The diplomats disagree, saying the present regime must not be pushed too hard too fast, because it might simply cancel even the little it is doing in the way of opening itself to public scrutiny and because the families of the personalities in question might suffer.

The families, in fact, prefer not to have names mentioned. It does not pay to make a fuss.

THE GENERALISSIMO is dead, and his chief of police, Col. Johnny Abbes Garcia, has been sent to Tokyo as first secretary of the embassy there. But in the entourage of generalissimo's son, are men whose names strike terror in the hearts of Dominicans. These men have such nicknames as "razor-blades," and "eyes", alluding to the former's favorite instrument and the latter's favorite point of attack.

It is not certain whether young Trujillo has kept these men, or whether he rules by their leave. They are the leaders of the Praetorian Guard, and since the old Caesar is dead, any of these feared captains could plot for succession.

The plotting would not be easy, and would take time, partly because it was old Trujillo's policy to keep his army dispersed in small detachments around the country. No general could easily concentrate a force large enough to challenge the center of power.

So far these men who are at the center are holding together. None of them has a national reputation. Some of the men involved in the assassination plot (such as Gen. Ramon Fernandez, the former Defense Minister) might have developed a following but these man were struck down before they could follow up the murder.

Fire Destroys House In Drill For Firemen

Members of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association burned down an old house in Columbiana in a drill Sunday afternoon.

About 50 men, representing eight departments, participated. Fires were built in various rooms. Each room was set up with thermocouplers attached to outside thermometers. When the temperature was extremely high, the men were sent in to extinguish the blazes.

The entire home finally was allowed to burn. The firemen kept a nearby house under constant guard.

Man, 28, Bound Over

WEIRTON — Earl Caldwell, 28, of Weirton was bound over to the September Grand Jury in Hancock County at a hearing today in Municipal Court. Police filed a charge of felonious cutting against Caldwell Saturday morning at his home. He pleaded guilty at the hearing before Judge Norman Ferrari and was lodged in County Jail in New Cumberland in lieu of $1,500 bond. Police said he cut a woman and had been arrested previously in 1947 and 1951 by Pittsburgh authorities on similar charges.

Ex-Health Aide Dies

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Dr. Walter L. Bierring, 92, retired Iowa state health director and former president of the American Medical Association, died Saturday. A native of Davenport, Iowa, Dr. Bierring studied under Louis Pasteur, French professor who founded bacteriology.

Revolt

detoured two blocks away from the Miraflores presidential palace. The only military guard on duty there was a detachment of steel-helmeted soldiers. On the occasion of previous uprisings armored cars have been sent to guard the palace.

The revolt came 48 hours after Gen. Pedro Jose Quevedo, the army commander, said the armed forces would put down any attempts at "personal adventures."

The uprising was the fourth reported revolt of 1961 against Betancourt's regime which is considered middle of the road. Both leftists and rightists have been involved. There has also been a series of strikes and riots with political overtones.

Communists irriated by Betancourt's denunciation of Soviet-Red Chinese interference in Latin-American affairs have been involved in much of the trouble.

Betancourt suspended constitutional guarantees Jan. 23 after announcing uncovering of a plot by Venezuelan Reds and some military men to set up a government patterned on Fidel Castro's Cuban regime.

wait against aggression provided the sheikdom asked for aid.

Questioned about Kassem's motives in annexing Kuwait, a diplomatic source in London said the sheikdom "is a very valuable prize—and that is a good enough reason." The ruling sheik has been receiving an estimated $3 million a day from a crude oil output that totaled more than 500 million barrels in 1959.

The American Gulf Oil Corp. and the British Petroleum Co. have been jointly engaged in exploiting the resources of Kuwait, which ranks fourth in world oil production after the United States, Venezuela and the Soviet Union. Iraq's output was more than 300 million barrels in 1959.

'Ma' Ferguson Dies

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Miriam A. Ferguson, 86, twice governor of Texas and one of the nation's first women governors, died Sunday of a heart attack. Called "Ma" by friends and foes, both she and her late husband, James E. (Farmer Jim) were longtime Democratic political powers in Texas.

Probe Slated In Death Case

cause of a question of jurisdiction, firemen notified the Hancock County sheriff's and coroner's offices and the Columbiana County sheriff's and coroner's offices. Finally, it was determined that the case was in the jurisdiction of the Hancock County authorities and the body was removed to the Arner Chester Funeral Chapel.

The survivors told firemen the boat was moving along about 60 feet from shore when it hit a piece of wood, apparently a section of siding, which was drifting in the river. It evidently hit one of the motors, which was torn loose from the boat, and all four men were thrown into the water, firemen said.

The survivors told firemen they attempted to aid Sopata's swimming by helping him remove his clothing. When the body was recovered, it was clothed only in underwear and socks.

MANY VOLUNTEER individuals and units were on the scene, which served hot coffee and doughnuts to the rescuers. Patrolman William McDaniel went to the scene when the drowning first was reported and remained until the body was recovered and an investigation was made, although his tour of duty had ended, meanwhile.

Mr. Sopata stopped off in East Liverpool Friday night during a run back to Chicago. He went with Wilkinson to a district stockcar race Friday night and early Saturday afternoon the two men decided to go on the boat ride which ended in tragedy.

Squire Eugene Allison of Chester empaneled a coroner's jury Saturday night and scheduled an inquest for tonight at 7 in Chester.

Mr. Sopata's body was returned to Chicago Sunday for services and burial. Unmarried, he leaves his father, Joseph Sopata, and a sister, Miss Helen Sopata, both of Chicago.

The six jurors for the coroner's inquest to be held tonight at the Arner Funeral Chapel are John R. Pugh, Byron Allison, Melvin Hissom, Dwight Allison, John Corcoran and Robert Finley, all of Chester. They were sworn in by Squire Eugene Allison Saturday night.

BECAUSE THEY both worked for Chicago-Pittsburgh Express at one time, Mr. Sopata was a good friend of Wilkinson's and stopped off here frequently while on a run. Wilkinson now works for a Toronto concern, but the two maintained their old friendship.

Mr. Sopata stopped here Friday, putting up at the Thompson Hotel, and then got in touch with Wilkinson. Together they went to the stockcar races at Clinton, Pa., Friday night. Since the Chicago man was an ardent water skiier, they made arrangements to go on the river the following day in Wilkinson's boat if the weather was favorable.

About 11 Saturday morning, Mr. Sopata called Wilkinson, who went by to pick him up. Along the way, he met Ross and invited him to go along so there would be at least two in the boat while Mr. Sopata was skiing. About noon they went to the Broadway wharf, where Wilkinson keeps his boat, and took it onto the river.

MR. SOPATA skiied for awhile, then Wilkinson took a turn on the skis. After while they halted at a dock on the River Rd. to refill their gasoline tank and get lunch at a diner. While they were there, Potts happened along and made arrangements for the boat to pick him up at the Broadway wharf.

The three headed onto the river again and were near Beaver Creek when someone remembered Potts was waiting at Broadway. They found him at the dock with Frank Seitz of Substation, but Seitz said he was unable to join the party. It was when the boat started upriver again with Wilkinson at the controls that it hit the floating board.

"I never saw it," Wilkinson said. "Joe saw it, but it was at the moment of impact. The boat heeled over on its left side—it seemed to me that it overturned — and we were all tossed into the water. We had seven life preservers on the boat, but it all happened so quick that no one grabbed one.

"WALTER AND POTTS and I were fully-clothed. Joe had on a swim suit and a sort of a beach robe."

When the boat hit the board, Wilkinson was standing up at the controls and Mr. Sopata was beside him. Ross was forward and Potts was on the rear seat.

"I thought the boat upset," Wilkinson related. "It headed straight for a tied-up barge at the Mississippi-Ohio Oil Co. dock. I thought: 'That's the end of my boat.' I decided I better start to swim. I was right beside Walter. He asked me to help him take his shoes off. I tried, but they were the laced up kind and I couldn't get them off.

"I rolled over on my back and kicked off my shoes and took off my shirt. He said something to me — I don't know what. I was about 15 feet away. He splashed a few times and then went down.

"JOE WAS about 15 feet away and Potts was downstream from us. Joe started to shout he couldn't make it, but I told him he had to make it because the shore was only about 10 feet away by that time. When I touched bottom and started to walk inshore I think that encouraged Joe and he made it, too."

Wilkinson said Mr. Sopata's family told him by telephone the victim was a good swimmer. He said Mr. Sopata may have suffered a cramp as a result of eating only 40 to 45 minutes before he was thrown into the water or may have been stricken with a heart attack.

After the men were thrown in the water, Wilkinson saw the boat circle and then head for the Chester shore, where it beached itself. A Chester man who found the boat said one motor was dead, but the other still was running. There was a gash in the side of the boat, but that may have happened when the boat hit the beach, Wilkinson said.

3 Area Youths Named For Posts With Synod

Three young people from the Steubenville Presbytery were named to offices at a Youth Synod meeting last week at the Wooster College.

Jim Murdock of Hopedale was elected moderator of the Youth Synod; Virginia Gray of Knoxville was named outreach chairman, and Kenny Province of Steubenville was eleced citizenship chairman.

Probe Slated In Death Case

cause of a question of jurisdiction, firemen notified the Hancock County sheriff's and coroner's offices and the Columbiana County sheriff's and coroner's offices. Finally, it was determined that the case was in the jurisdiction of the Hancock County authorities and the body was removed to the Arner Chester Funeral Chapel.

The survivors told firemen the boat was moving along about 60 feet from shore when it hit a piece of wood, apparently a section of siding, which was drifting in the river. It evidently hit one of the motors, which was torn loose from the boat, and all four men were thrown into the water, firemen said.

The survivors told firemen they attempted to aid Sopata's swimming by helping him remove his clothing. When the body was recovered, it was clothed only in underwear and socks.

MANY VOLUNTEER individuals and units were on the scene, which served hot coffee and doughnuts to the rescuers. Patrolman William McDaniel went to the scene when the drowning first was reported and remained until the body was recovered and an investigation was made, although his tour of duty had ended, meanwhile.

Mr. Sopata stopped off in East Liverpool Friday night during a run back to Chicago. He went with Wilkinson to a district stock-car race Friday night and early Saturday afternoon the two men decided to go on the boat ride which ended in tragedy.

Squire Eugene Allison of Chester empaneled a coroner's jury Saturday night and scheduled an inquest for tonight at 7 in Chester.

Mr. Sopata's body was returned to Chicago Sunday for services and burial. Unmarried, he leaves his father, Joseph Sopata, and a sister, Miss Helen Sopata, both of Chicago.

The six jurors for the coroner's inquest to be held tonight at the Arner Funeral Chapel are John R. Pugh, Byron Allison, Melvin Hissom, Dwight Allison, John Corcoran and Robert Finley, all of Chester. They were sworn in by Squire Eugene Allison Saturday night.

BECAUSE THEY both worked for Chicago-Pittsburgh Express at one time, Mr. Sopata was a good friend of Wilkinson's and stopped off here frequently while on a run. Wilkinson now works for a Toronto concern, but the two maintained their old friendship.

Mr. Sopata stopped here Friday, putting up at the Thompson Hotel, and then got in touch with Wilkinson. Together they went to the stockcar races at Clinton, Pa., Friday night. Since the Chicago man was an ardent water skiier, they made arrangements to go on the river the following day in Wilkinson's boat if the weather was favorable.

About 11 Saturday morning, Mr. Sopata called Wilkinson, who went by to pick him up. Along the way, he met Ross and invited him to go along so there would be at least two in the boat while Mr. Sopata was skiing. About noon they went to the Broadway wharf, where Wilkinson keeps his boat, and took it onto the river.

MR. SOPATA skied for awhile, then Wilkinson took a turn on the skis. After while they halted at a dock on the River Rd. to refill their gasoline tank and get lunch at a diner. While they were there, Potts happened along and made arrangements for the boat to pick him up at the Broadway wharf.

The three headed onto the river again and were near Beaver Creek when someone remembered Potts was waiting at Broadway. They found him at the dock with Frank Seitz of Substation, but Seitz said he was unable to join the party. It was when the boat started upriver again with Wilkinson at the controls that it hit the floating board.

"I never saw it," Wilkinson said. "Joe saw it, but it was at the moment of impact. The boat heeled over on its left side—it seemed to me that it overturned — and we were all tossed into the water. We had seven life preservers on the boat, but it all happened so quick that no one grabbed one.

"WALTER AND POTTS and I were fully-clothed. Joe had on a swim suit and a sort of a beach robe."

When the boat hit the board, Wilkinson was standing up at the controls and Mr. Sopata was beside him. Ross was forward and Potts was on the rear seat.

"I thought the boat upset," Wilkinson related. "It headed straight for a tied-up barge at the Mississippi-Ohio Oil Co. dock. I thought: 'That's the end of my boat.' I decided I better start to swim. I was right beside Walter. He asked me to help him take his shoes off. I tried, but they were the laced up kind and I couldn't get them off.

"I rolled over on my back and kicked off my shoes and took off my shirt. He said something to me — I don't know what. I was about 15 feet away. He splashed a few times and then went down.

"JOE WAS about 15 feet away and Potts was downstream from us. Joe started to shout he couldn't make it, but I told him he had to make it because the shore was only about 10 feet away by that time. When I touched bottom and started to walk inshore I think that encouraged Joe and he made it, too."

Wilkinson said Mr. Sopata's family told him by telephone the victim was a good swimmer. He said Mr. Sopata may have suffered a cramp as a result of eating only 40 to 45 minutes before he was thrown into the water or may have been stricken with a heart attack.

After the men were thrown in the water, Wilkinson saw the boat circle and then head for the Chester shore, where it beached itself. A Chester man who found the boat said one motor was dead, but the other still was running. There was a gash in the side of the boat, but that may have happened when the boat hit the beach, Wilkinson said.

Burns Tires Faster Than 'Hotrodders'

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — Somebody figured out a way to burn up auto tires faster than a hotrodder. He climbed into an unattended transport truck cab at an industrial plant, locked the trailer's airbrakes, started the engine — and left the tractor's four drive wheels spinning on the concrete.

Next morning, a company spokesman said, "there were little piles of rubber by each tire and the wheels were still spinning in reverse."

The Association for Supervisors and Curriculum Development, a department of the National Education Association, already has booked its convention for 1968 in Atlantic City.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What is a good formula for a "homemade" furniture polish?

A. One very good one consists of equal parts of kettle-boiled linseed oil, turpentine, and vinegar. Rub on all that the wood will absorb, then rub off the surplus with a clean cloth. Rub dry, and polish with a chamois or soft woolen cloth without lint.

Q. What is a good and effective way to clean out a greasy frying pan?

A. Fill the pan with hot water to which a teaspoonful of washing soda or soap powder has been added. Allow to boil for a few minutes, empty, and rinse.

Q. How can I prevent my homemade jams from crystallizing?

A. By adding a tablespoonful of glycerin to each pint of jam. This makes the jam more transparent, and reduces the amount of sugar required.

Q. How can I clean ivory objects?

A. If these ivory objects are all in one piece, it's safe to clean them with soap and water. If, however, they are glued together, it is better to take a piece of raw lemon, dip it into salt, and rub the surfaces with this. Let the juice dry on the ivory before wiping off with a damp cloth.

Q. How can I remove some light scorch stains from white materials?

A. By sponging the fabric with hydrogen peroxide and sodium perborate. Add one teaspoonful of sodium perborate to one pint of peroxide. Rinse with plain water.

Q. How can I make the application of enamel easier and smoother?

A. By placing your can of enamel in a pan of hot water for awhile before beginning your paint job.

Alcoholism Catching, Medical Figure Says

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Alcoholism is not hereditary but it is communicable, says Dr. Marvin A. Block, chairman of the American Medical Association's committee on alcoholism. He said 50 per cent of all alcoholics have had alcoholic parents.

"Alcoholism produces the kind of tension in a home that is apt to drive the children to alcoholism later in life," he said.

Spring Tonic Roots

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — When Charles Chitlum pulled up roots and left Virginia he neglected some of them — sassafras roots. Now 77, Chitlum addressed a letter to the "Best Banker" at Roanoke and asked that some sassafras roots be sent to him at Omaha, Neb. He got the roots for the tea he said he needed as a spring tonic.

Driver, 18, 'Clocked' At 100 By Patrol On Wellsville Road

A 18-year-old Salineville area motorist was clocked at 100 miles an hour late Sunday night on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super road," which is zoned for 50-mile speeds, the State Highway Patrol reported.

William Catlett of Salineville R. D. 3 was cited on a speeding charge at 11:35 p. m., the patrol reported. Traffic was light and the roadway was dry, the arresting officer reported, adding ruefully that Catlett was driving "a very fast car."

Catlett drew a $50 fine and costs plus suspension of his junior probationary driver's license for 6 months and a stern lecture from an astonished Judge Samuel M. Chertoff at a hearing this morning in Municipal Court.

Asking the Salineville area youth for his operator's permit, Judge Chertoff queried, "Is it a driver's or pilot's license?"

Learning Catlett was 18, Judge Chertoff said, "I'm going to see to it that you live to be 19. Your license is suspended for six months."

Before announcing the rest of the penalty, Judge Chertoff checked the state code and then told Catlett regretfully, "It's a shame all I can fine you is $50. You are a menace on the highway. A speed of 100 miles an hour is worse than reckless driving."

In response to questions from the judge, Catlett said he purchased the 1961 model three weeks ago although he hasn't worked in two months. He said he was en route home from Lake Marwin.

Ernest Whiteman, 1111 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, was cited for driving 70 in the same stretch at 10:05 p. m. Sunday. He told the arresting officer he was "glad the patrol was on the job, even though he was the one being arrested," the patrol said.

When Whiteman appeared before the bench, Judge Chertoff said, "Seventy miles an hour is an awful let down from what I just heard. What would have happened if you had collided with this other fellow (Catlett)?" Whiteman pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs.

Paul R. Smith of 7th Ave., LaCroft, was cited at 2 a. m. Sunday on a charge of passing on a curve. Northbound in the California Hollow section of Routes 7 and 30, he passed a truck headed in the same direction, the patrol said.

Smith drew a fine of $10 and costs after pleading guilty.

Two other drivers cited by city police were fined and a third forfeited a bond.

James E. Farnsworth, 43, of Ada St., LaCroft, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of failing to stop in the assured clear distance. Farnsworth was cited by police Friday night after his car collided with a halted car at Lisbon and W. 9th Sts.

Charles H. Chenoweth, 226 18th St., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs for making an illegal right turn from Washington St. onto E. 5th St. early Saturday morning. Police said Chenoweth made the turn at a high rate of speed and nearly overturned his car.

Charles D. Lucas, 20, of McKeesport forfeited a $32.50 bond on a reckless driving charge. He was cited by police Friday night after losing control of his car at a slight bend at Dresden Ave. Ave. and Trentvale St., causing it to go into a ditch.

A hearing is set Friday at 9 a. m. for Frank D. Newlan, 2107 Nevada St., Wellsville, cited Friday at 11:35 p. m. for driving 75 in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Alcoholism Catching, Medical Figure Says

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Alcoholism is not hereditary but it is communicable, says Dr. Marvin A. Block, chairman of the American Medical Association's committee on alcoholism. He said 50 per cent of all alcoholics have had alcoholic parents.

"Alcoholism produces the kind of tension in a home that is apt to drive the children to alcoholism later in life," he said.

Spring Tonic Roots

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — When Charles Chitlum pulled up roots and left Virginia he neglected some of them — sassafras roots. Now 77, Chitlum addressed a letter to the "Best Banker" at Roanoke and asked that some sassafras roots be sent to him at Omaha, Neb. He got the roots for the tea he said he needed as a spring tonic.

A 18-year-old Salineville area motorist was clocked at 100 miles an hour late Sunday night on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super road," which is zoned for 50-mile speeds, the State Highway Patrol reported.

William Catlett of Salineville R. D. 3 was cited on a speeding charge at 11:35 p. m., the patrol reported. Traffic was light and the roadway was dry, the arresting officer reported, adding ruefully that Catlett was driving "a very fast car."

Catlett drew a $50 fine and costs plus suspension of his junior probationary driver's license for 6 months and a stern lecture from an astonished Judge Samuel M. Chertoff at a hearing this morning in Municipal Court.

Asking the Salineville area youth for his operator's permit, Judge Chertoff queried, "Is it a driver's or pilot's license?"

Learning Catlett was 18, Judge Chertoff said, "I'm going to see to it that you live to be 19. Your license is suspended for six months."

Before announcing the rest of the penalty, Judge Chertoff checked the state code and then told Catlett regretfully, "It's a shame all I can fine you is $50. You are a menace on the highway. A speed of 100 miles an hour is worse than reckless driving."

In response to questions from the judge, Catlett said he purchased the 1961 model three weeks ago although he hasn't worked in two months. He said he was en route home from Lake Marwin.

Ernest Whiteman, 1111 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, was cited for driving 70 in the same stretch at 10:05 p. m. Sunday. He told the arresting officer he was "glad the patrol was on the job, even though he was the one being arrested," the patrol said.

When Whiteman appeared before the bench, Judge Chertoff said, "Seventy miles an hour is an awful let down from what I just heard. What would have happened if you had collided with this other fellow (Catlett)?" Whiteman pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs.

Paul R. Smith of 7th Ave., LaCroft, was cited at 2 a. m. Sunday on a charge of passing on a curve. Northbound in the California Hollow section of Routes 7 and 30, he passed a truck headed in the same direction, the patrol said.

Smith drew a fine of $10 and costs after pleading guilty.

Two other drivers cited by city police were fined and a third forfeited a bond.

James E. Farnsworth, 43, of Ada St., LaCroft, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of failing to stop in the assured clear distance. Farnsworth was cited by police Friday night after his car collided with a halted car at Lisbon and W. 9th Sts.

Charles H. Chenoweth, 226 18th St., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs for making an illegal right turn from Washington St. onto E. 5th St. early Saturday morning. Police said Chenoweth made the turn at a high rate of speed and nearly overturned his car.

Charles D. Lucas, 20, of McKeesport forfeited a $32.50 bond on a reckless driving charge. He was cited by police Friday night after losing control of his car at a slight bend at Dresden Ave. Ave. and Trentvale St., causing it to go into a ditch.

A hearing is set Friday at 9 a. m. for Frank D. Newlan, 2107 Nevada St., Wellsville, cited Friday at 11:35 p. m. for driving 75 in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Lamb Oven Supper Makes Hit With Cook

Lamb oven supper should get the nod as the dish most likely to become "cook's pet" as well as a family favorite.

It combines the convenience of a dish that's a complete meal in itself with unforgettably fine flavor and exceptionally handsome appearance. What's more it bakes in less than an hour from its own baking dish.

Crisp relishes or a green salad will fill out the main course nicely.

1 lb. ground lamb
1 tablespoon dried parsley flakes, or ¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
1 teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
Few grains thyme
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
2-3 cup evaporated milk
4 cups thinly sliced raw potatoes (about 4 to 5 medium)
2 cups thinly sliced onions (about 3 medium)
1 can (No. 2) tomato juice (1 pt., 2 oz.)
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen peas

In a medium size mixing bowl mix together thoroughly the lamb, parsley, the 1 teaspoon salt, the few grains pepper and thyme, crumbs and evaporated milk. Shape meat mixture into six rectangular loaves and place side by side in the center of a 13½ x 8½ x 1¾-inch baking dish. Arrange potatoes on both sides of loaves, then top potatoes with onions. Pour tomato juice over potatoes and onions, but not over loaves.

Sprinkle with the 2 teaspoons salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Bake in preheated hot oven (450 deg. F.) for 20 minutes. Cover dish tightly with aluminum foil, then reduce temperature to 350 deg. F. and bake 15 minutes longer. Remove cover and sprinkle peas over top. Cover and bake 10 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

Crisp relishes or a green salad will fill out the main course nicely.

1 lb. ground lamb
1 tablespoon dried parsley flakes, or ¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
1 teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
Few grains thyme
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
2-3 cup evaporated milk
4 cups thinly sliced raw potatoes (about 4 to 5 medium)
2 cups thinly sliced onions (about 3 medium)
1 can (No. 2) tomato juice (1 pt., 2 oz.)
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen peas

In a medium size mixing bowl mix together thoroughly the lamb, parsley, the 1 teaspoon salt, the few grains pepper and thyme, crumbs and evaporated milk. Shape meat mixture into six rectangular loaves and place side by side in the center of a 13½ x 8½ x 1¾-inch baking dish. Arrange potatoes on both sides of loaves, then top potatoes with onions. Pour tomato juice over potatoes and onions, but not over loaves.

Sprinkle with the 2 teaspoons salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Bake in preheated hot oven (450 deg. F.) for 20 minutes. Cover dish tightly with aluminum foil, then reduce temperature to 350 deg. F. and bake 15 minutes longer. Remove cover and sprinkle peas over top. Cover and bake 10 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

Ends Visit To Ireland

Parmesan Cheese Flavors Green Rice

Just how grated Parmesan-Romano can endow a simple dish with rich flavor is shown in a new recipe. The recipe, called "Green Rice," is for a casserole gay in color and rich in flavor and nutrition.

The casserole gets its color from chopped parsley and green peppers and its extra flavor and richness from milk, cheese and instant minced onion. It makes a delightful casserole which can be served with meat or with meatless meals.

½ cup packaged pre-cooked rice
½ cup salted water
1 egg beaten
1-3 cup salad oil
1 cup homogenized milk.
1 to 2 envelopes (1-5-oz.) Instant Minced Onions OR ¼ to ½ cup finely chopped fresh onion
½ cup chopped parsley
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups (2-3 oz. cans) Grated Parmesan and Romano Cheese
½ cup buttered bread crumbs.

Cook rice according to directions on package. Lightly butter a 1-quart casserole. Combine rice, egg, oil and milk together in a large mixing bowl. Add onion, parsley, green pepper, salt and 1 cup of the cheese to the rice mixture. Pour into casserole. Mix remaining cheese with bread crumbs. Sprinkle over top of casserole. Bake, uncovered in a moderate oven (300 deg. F.) 35 to 40 minutes or until done. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard swore in the following jury: Edward B. Wolfe and Marguerite Donovan of East Liverpool; Adam J. Frischkorn of Wellsville; Byron Maxson, James W. Zimmerman, Bernice A. Kerr, and Julia Hayes of Salem.

Fred Deidrick of Lisbon; Verna Wilhelm of Columbiana; W. K. Leatherberry of Hanoverton, and Glenna Ann Spaite and Ruth Ward of New Waterford. Bertha George of New Waterford is alternate.

Heavy Deposit

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—John C. Seidler, a William and Mary sophomore, wheeled his deposit into a bank in a trash can carrier—20,070 pennies weighing 135 pounds. He thereby won a bet from a friend at Massachusetts Institute of Technology who wagered he couldn't fill a five-gallon bottle with pennies from spare change and a part-time job before the summer vacation.

Contractor To Begin Midland Street Work

Equipment is expected to be brought in today for the blacktopping of Midland Ave. by the Foster Grading Co. of Jackson Center, Pa., beginning Tuesday.

A parking ban on Midland Ave., which is part of State Route 68, will become effective Tuesday morning during the street work, a project of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department.

Signs will be put up notifying motorists where not to park, Police Chief Ed J. Stefl said. Violators' cars will be towed away and they will have to pay towing charges, he said.

Protests Hit Charges On Septic Tank Work

LISBON — The Columbiana County Health Department said today it has received complaints in the last few weeks of excessive charges for cleaning septic tanks throughout the county.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, said an agreement should be reached before the work is done and that if the homeowner feels the price is excessive he should contact the county office, which also furnish a list of the licensed operators.

2 Granted Asylum

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Two Chinese Communist officials who fled to Burma have been granted political asylum.

Road Policies Hit At Session

Officers of the South Beaver County Civic Association met Saturday evening to discuss sending a letter opposing additional authority for Highway Secretary Park Martin to take land for projects.

House Bill 1269, which is in the Senate now, would give the secretary authority to take any portion or all of a person's property. Now the department may take only land which is needed.

The group supports another bill which requires lobbyists to register.

It was reported that Sen. Estes Kefauver has replied to a letter from the association protesting unfair prices on hearing aids. Kefauver said several letters had been received and that an investigation is warranted.

The association decided it will not meet Thursday and made plans for a picnic July 29. Daniel Wilson is picnic chairman. A gift will be presented J. Stanley Miller, past president.

The gift committee includes Mrs. Daniel Wilson, H. J. DeRolf and Carl Lutton.

Holds Private Race

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Peace Justice Lucien A. Morin fined Chester Berardi $50 for "holding a speed contest" on a county road. Police said Berardi, 18, told them he arrived at the Monroe County Fairgrounds too late to register for drag strip races, so he decided to have his own race later. His opponent escaped.

Ends Visit To Ireland

Parmesan Cheese Flavors Green Rice

Just how grated Parmesan-Romano can endow a simple dish with rich flavor is shown in a new recipe. The recipe, called "Green Rice," is for a casserole gay in color and rich in flavor and nutrition.

The casserole gets its color from chopped parsley and green peppers and its extra flavor and richness from milk, cheese and instant minced onion. It makes a delightful casserole which can be served with meat or with meatless meals.

½ cup packaged pre-cooked rice
½ cup salted water
1 egg beaten
1-3 cup salad oil
1 cup homogenized milk
1 to 2 envelopes (1-5-oz.) Instant Minced Onions OR ¼ to ½ cup finely chopped fresh onion
½ cup chopped parsley
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup buttered bread crumbs.

Cook rice according to directions on package. Lightly butter a 1-quart casserole. Combine rice, egg, oil and milk together in a large mixing bowl. Add onion, parsley, green pepper, salt and 1 cup of the cheese to the rice mixture. Pour into casserole. Mix remaining cheese with bread crumbs. Sprinkle over top of casserole. Bake, uncovered in a moderate oven (300 deg. F.) 35 to 40 minutes or until done. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard swore in the following jury: Edward B. Wolfe and Marguerite Donovan of East Liverpool; Adam J. Frischkorn of Wellsville; Byron Maxson, James W. Zimmerman, Bernice A. Kerr, and Julia Hayes of Salem.

Fred Deidrick of Lisbon; Verna Wilhelm of Columbiana; W. K. Leatherberry of Hanoverton, and Glenna Ann Spaite and Ruth Ward of New Waterford. Bertha George of New Waterford is alternate.

Heavy Deposit

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—John C. Seidler, a William and Mary sophomore, wheeled his deposit into a bank in a trash can carrier—20,070 pennies weighing 135 pounds. He thereby won a bet from a friend at Massachusetts Institute of Technology who wagered he couldn't fill a five-gallon bottle with pennies from spare change and a part-time job before the summer vacation.

Contractor To Begin Midland Street Work

Equipment is expected to be brought in today for the blacktopping of Midland Ave. by the Foster Grading Co. of Jackson Center, Pa., beginning Tuesday.

A parking ban on Midland Ave., which is part of State Route 68, will become effective Tuesday morning during the street work, a project of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department.

Signs will be put up notifying motorists where not to park, Police Chief Ed J. Stefl said. Violators' cars will be towed away and they will have to pay towing charges, he said.

Protests Hit Charges On Septic Tank Work

LISBON — The Columbiana County Health Department said today it has received complaints in the last few weeks of excessive charges for cleaning septic tanks throughout the county.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, said an agreement should be reached before the work is done and that if the homeowner feels the price is excessive he should contact the county office, which also furnish a list of the licensed operators.

Road Policies Hit At Session

Officers of the South Beaver County Civic Association met Saturday evening to discuss sending a letter opposing additional authority for Highway Secretary Park Martin to take land for projects.

House Bill 1269, which is in the Senate now, would give the secretary authority to take any portion or all of a person's property. Now the department may take only land which is needed.

The group supports another bill which requires lobbyists to register.

It was reported that Sen. Estes Kefauver has replied to a letter from the association protesting unfair prices on hearing aids. Kefauver said several letters had been received and that an investigation is warranted.

The association decided it will not meet Thursday and made plans for a picnic July 29. Daniel Wilson is picnic chairman. A gift will be presented J. Stanley Miller, past president.

The gift committee includes Mrs. Daniel Wilson, H. J. DeRolf and Carl Lutton.

Farmers' 'Good Work' Stressed By Pamphlet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is going all out in a press agentry job for farmers—just as Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman promised it would do when he took office in January.

The department has just issued the latest in a series of pamphlets addressed to the consumer and designed to show the farmer is doing a mighty good job at a mighty low wage.

From the beginning, Freeman has said in speeches and in news conferences that American agriculture is not being appreciated for the efficient job it is doing in producing an abundant supply of high quality foods and fibers. It is his idea that this lack of appreciation has hindered efforts to get stronger programs for stabilizing farm production, prices and incomes at more favorable levels.

The latest public relations effort is a 16-page pamphlet entitled "Food Is a Bargain." It is written in what might be called the best style of Madison Avenue publicists—simple words and bold illustrations designed to catch every eye.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is importing about 18 per cent less oats and barley from Canada this marketing year than last.

The Foreign Agricultural Service reported today such imports totaled 194,000 metric tons during the first 10 months of the current marketing year, which ends June 30, compared with 239,000 tons in the like period a year ago. Somewhat lower U. S. prices this marketing year were said to be a factor in the decline.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department opens a two-day conference Tuesday on problems relating to maintenance of free, open and competitive markets for livestock.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today the farmers' share of the U. S. food dollar was 38 cents in April, compared with 39 cents in March and an average of 40 cents in 1960.

The agency also reported that farm cash receipts in May totaled $2.3 billion, up $164 million from April.

Prisoner Kills Self; 'Framed', Note Says

Bromley, a former resident of Corry, Erie County, was serving a life term for the fatal shooting of a sailor on a lonely road near North East, Pa., on April 3, 1942. The victim was Lloyd Wilkinson of North East.

In his note Bromley said:

"You are not going to take my life for a crime I did not commit. I did not kill Lloyd Wilkinson. I was framed."

Bromley had been in prison since 1946.

Farmers' 'Good Work' Stressed By Pamphlet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is going all out in a press agentry job for farmers—just as Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman promised it would do when he took office in January.

The department has just issued the latest in a series of pamphlets addressed to the consumer and designed to show the farmer is doing a mighty good job at a mighty low wage.

From the beginning, Freeman has said in speeches and in news conferences that American agriculture is not being appreciated for the efficient job it is doing in producing an abundant supply of high quality foods and fibers. It is his idea that this lack of appreciation has hindered efforts to get stronger programs for stabilizing farm production, prices and incomes at more favorable levels.

The latest public relations effort is a 16-page pamphlet entitled "Food Is a Bargain." It is written in what might be called the best style of Madison Avenue publicists—simple words and bold illustrations designed to catch every eye.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is importing about 18 per cent less oats and barley from Canada this marketing year than last.

The Foreign Agricultural Service reported today such imports totaled 194,000 metric tons during the first 10 months of the current marketing year, which ends June 30, compared with 239,000 tons in the like period a year ago. Somewhat lower U. S. prices this marketing year were said to be a factor in the decline.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department opens a two-day conference Tuesday on problems relating to maintenance of free, open and competitive markets for livestock.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today the farmers' share of the U. S. food dollar was 38 cents in April, compared with 39 cents in March and an average of 40 cents in 1960.

The agency also reported that farm cash receipts in May totaled $2.3 billion, up $164 million from April.

Prisoner Kills Self; 'Framed', Note Says

Bromley, a former resident of Corry, Erie County, was serving a life term for the fatal shooting of a sailor on a lonely road near North East, Pa., on April 3, 1942. The victim was Lloyd Wilkinson of North East.

In his note Bromley said:

"You are not going to take my life for a crime I did not commit. I did not kill Lloyd Wilkinson. I was framed."

Bromley had been in prison since 1946.

Governors Back Foreign Stand, Quibble At Home

HONOLULU (AP) — Governors of both political parties pledged strong support today to President Kennedy in his dealing with the Soviets on Berlin and other crisis areas.

But Kennedy's domestic policies came in for sharp criticism from some Republicans and a Democrat who was one of his early supporters for the 1960 presidential nomination, Gov. John Patterson of Alabama.

Patterson kicked up some excitement on the outskirts of the 53rd annual Governors' Conference by blasting what he called the "childish" handling of the "Freedom Riders" bus controversy by the President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York—who might be Kennedy's Republican opponent for the presidency in 1964—called for a moratorium on political criticism of the administration's international moves.

Rockefeller told a news conference Sunday that Kennedy obviously faces a great many problems "more complex than they looked from outside," the presidency. He said it was too early to make any judgments.

"The problems are so complex, so serious, they have such an effect on human dignity and liberty around the world I feel all of us, regardless of party, should stand behind him to support the defense of freedom with whatever steps are necessary," Rockefeller said.

In recent speeches Nixon has contended that the Kennedy administration has tended to "talk big and act timidly." Goldwater has said that it will "take a lot more doing than is being done" to win the cold war.

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, California Democrat, said he believes the people are supporting Kennedy in the international field despite the Cuban invasion fiasco and the difficulties over Laos. He said he doesn't think this is the time for political criticism in that area.

Brown and Gov. Steve McNichols of Colorado, the conference chairman, said in separate interviews, however, they fear the public is not sufficiently awake to the danger that faces the country if Soviet Premier Khrushchev should decide to force a Berlin showdown.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, scheduled for a major speech at the annual state dinner Tuesday night, has been emphasizing the seriousness of the international situation.

Johnson arrived on the scene Sunday night to take the place of President Kennedy, who canceled out of his scheduled appearance before the governors last week.

Flurry Of Oratory Due

Senate Launches Debate On More Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another of President Kennedy's major bills, a proposal to expand Social Security benefits, comes up for debate in the Senate today.

The Senate is expected to clear the House-passed measure handily, but not until after a flurry of oratory over a Republican proposal to write in a health insurance program for old persons.

The House, meanwhile, will debate Kennedy's request for another $5-billion increase in the national debt limit now standing at $293 billion.

Tuesday the House takes up the biggest appropriations measure of the session, the $42,711,105,000 Defense Department bill.

Both branches hope to clean up a big batch of major bills by Thursday so members can get away for a long Fourth of July holiday weekned.

In addition to Social Security, the Senate will act on a rush money bill carrying funds for the U.S. share of the U.N. Congo operation, a Commerce Department appropriations measure and the debt limit bill.

Both House and Senate must clear the highway financing bill containing $11.56 billion in revenues over the next 11 years to keep the interstate system on schedule.

The 4 cent federal gas tax will drop to 3 cents on Saturday if this measure is not signed into law by that time; it continues the 4 cent rate and imposes new tire and truck levies. The compromise version of the bill already has been worked out.

The Social Security bill up for consideration in the Senate lowers to age 62 the retirement age for men, increases the minimum Social Security benefit, raises the monthly payments to widows of retired workers, and makes other changes in the law.

This is one of the items on Kennedy's 16-point legislative program submitted to Congress in February. So far nine have been sent to him for signature.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., has announced he will raise the issue of medical care for old persons in the Social Security debate by offering his $450-million annual federal grant plan.

This is expected to meet solid Democratic opposition. A similar Javits proposal was beaten 67-28 last year.

The New York senator proposes a system of federal grants to help pay for three types of optional health insurance plans for persons over 65 with incomes below $3,000 for an individual, $4,500 for a couple.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I used to date a fellow who just returned after one year at an Eastern school.

He seemed very normal last spring when he was a senior in high school and I was a junior. Now he uses foreign phrases in ordinary conversation like "ipso facto," "fait accompli" and "persona non grata." Some of the kids think he's showing off. My mother says it sounds very classy.

Last night when he brought me home I said good night and he said, "Semper Fidelis." I think this is going too far. Shall I tell him to stop trying to impress people?—NO LINGUIST.

Dear No Linguist: I ran across this delightful verse by a Bryn Mawr College student. Spring it on your linguist and see what happens:

What's pat in the Latin
Or chic in the Greek
I always distinguish

Unhandy Man

Dear Ann: While my husband is building up his ego he is tearing down our home. For three months he has been remodeling the living room — learning as he goes. Everything is so torn up we can't have friends in for fear someone will fall in a hole or hit his head on a suspended project.

Last week he disconnected the kitchen stove temporarily and then couldn't put it back together. We had to eat out. He has installed outlets which don't work and I'm scared to death he will electrocute himself. He knows nothing about wiring but insists on fooling with transformers and converters.

What do you suggest?—SHORT CIRCUIT.

Dear Short: There's a great deal to be said for a husband who spends his spare time fiddling around at home instead of elsewhere but your boy sounds dangerous.

Building mistakes can be repaired by a professional but a serious wiring mistake might call for the services of an undertaker. For your peace of mind, insist he lay off the electrical projects.

Battle Of The Sexes

Dear Ann: A word to Lucille, who was crowing about the independence of the American female: I'd like to remind her that everything has a price — and sometimes the price is too high.

I'm a career gal, right in the middle of the battle of the sexes. All the men I meet assume that every female over 18 is "emancipated" — and therefore in favor of free love. Unfortunately, too many women like this assumption.

Promiscuity is turning a beautiful part of life into a sex automat. And both sexes are losing because of it. If this is the price of "freedom and equality," who wants it?—ONE WHO KNOWS.

Dear One: I agree. But one thing is certain. The "battle of the sexes" will never be won. There's too much fraternization with "the enemy."

Confidentially

TO FAKED OUT: I am not suggesting that you tell the young man how to run his life but why let him ruin yours? A guy who insists that you be a drinking buddy so he won't be a solitary drunk is not my idea of good husband material.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Australian Telescope To Top U.S., Russia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—A radio telescope capable of tracking American and Russian satellites better than the Americans or Russians is being completed at Parkes, 270 miles west of Sydney.

It is being built by the Radiophysics Division of the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization, whose officers say it will be the most refined in the world.

The telescope is expected to be ready for work in July or August. It will be 210 feet across, cover an area as big as a football field, and cost 800,000 Australian pounds ($1,792,000).

'Women For Peace'

CLEVELAND (AP)—An organization called American Women for World Peace and Understanding held its initial meeting at the Acadia farms of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Eaton. The group said it is convinced war is the only enemy and called on the United States to help create a "technology of peace" in the world.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Like Mother, Like Daughter?

A delightful story, with an O. Henry ending, clings in my memory. A slim young man reluctantly decided not to marry his dream girl because her mother was far past pleasingly plump. He feared the lovely blonde daughter, who resembled the mother in coloring, would get fat, too.

Ida Jean Kain

Twenty years later they met again. Disappointed in his first love, he never married. By then she was a most attractive widow. Belatedly he proposed and was turned down. She did not want to marry a fat man!

As this story shows, fat is not hereditary. Excess pounds can come only from a plethora of food. It's the grand total of calories that counts. In short, it is not what your ancestors ate, but what you eat.

IT IS TRUE, of course, that bony framework is inherited. Also we are genetically predisposed to store any excess fat according to family pattern ... whether the tendency is toward upholstered hips or an ample bosom. Nonetheless, without excess food there couldn't be any excess fat to be deposited.

When whole families are overweight, it is natural to jump to the conclusion that fat "runs in the family." Not true. The cause is fattening food habits. Food habits are set by environment and food habits can be changed.

For example, your family liked simple meals with many vegetables, fruits, salads, milk and eggs and you prefer that way of eating. Then you marry a man from another part of the country. He has a fondness for foods like those "his mother used to make" ...so that's your weakness now.

PERHAPS THE head of the house is the tall, energetic type who takes big meals in his six-foot stride. You're more the calm type, with an even temperment and good disposition. A familiar refrain in the letters goes, "I weighed 116 pounds when I got married and now ..."

It's food habits. All excess fat comes from excess calories. But the change in your figure is so gradual as to go almost unnoticed. First thing you know the scales were up five pounds, which wasn't alarming, so you went blithely along and added another five ... and another ... and another!

No doubt about it — we are reluctant to change our longtime food habits. An alternative is to cut down on serving sizes. The portions to which we are accustomed were set back in the days when more calories were needed.

In this less active age, it is utterly foolish for us to continue to help ourselves to the same-sized servings. Calorie intake can be cut by at least a third through smaller servings. Homemakers, decide to cook just a little less and cut serving sizes slightly and the family weight trend will gradually go down.

Send a long, slef - addressed, stamped envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Lady Astor, The Goat, Stole The Show Once

WALLA, WALLA, Wash. (AP) — Lady Astor, the goat in the Walla Walla Little Theater's "Teahouse of the August Moon," stole the show in one performance.

She became a mother while the show was on.

And to the audience he added: "You think I'm kidding?"

Ohio Woman Killed

INDIAN RIVER, Mich. (AP) — A Toledo area woman, Mrs. Loretta Schmuhl, 36, of Whitehouse, Ohio, was killed Sunday in a two-car head-on collision seven miles east of here.

Police Probe 2 City Thefts

East Liverpool police today are investigating two weekend thefts, awaiting inventories to determine if there was any loss.

The Jewel Tea Co.'s storage garage on Myrtle Ave. was entered sometime Sunday by a burglar who forced a lock on a door on the west side, police said. The entry was reported at 5:45 p. m. yesterday, but the company said it must check the stock before determining if there was any loss.

Apparently thieves were hunting for money when they ransacked a panel truck owned by the National Cigarette Service of Steubenville while it was parked between 9 p. m. Saturday and 12:30 p. m. Sunday at the home of an employe, Robert Blatchford, 311 Garfield St., police said.

Blatchford told police an inventory will be required to determine if anything was taken. Money never is kept in the truck, he added.

Unhandy Man

Dear Ann: While my husband is building up his ego he is tearing down our home. For three months he has been remodeling the living room — learning as he goes. Everything is so torn up we can't have friends in for fear someone will fall in a hole or hit his head on a suspended project.

Last week he disconnected the kitchen stove temporarily and then couldn't put it back together. We had to eat out. He has installed outlets which don't work and I'm scared to death he will electrocute himself. He knows nothing about wiring but insists on fooling with transformers and converters.

What do you suggest?—SHORT CIRCUIT.

Dear Short: There's a great deal to be said for a husband who spends his spare time fiddling around at home instead of elsewhere but your boy sounds dangerous.

Building mistakes can be repaired by a professional but a serious wiring mistake might call for the services of an undertaker. For your peace of mind, insist he lay off the electrical projects.

Battle Of The Sexes

Dear Ann: A word to Lucille, who was crowing about the independence of the American female: I'd like to remind her that everything has a price — and sometimes the price is too high.

I'm a career gal, right in the middle of the battle of the sexes. All the men I meet assume that every female over 18 is "emancipated" — and therefore in favor of free love. Unfortunately, too many women like this assumption.

Promiscuity is turning a beautiful part of life into a sex automat. And both sexes are losing because of it. If this is the price of "freedom and equality," who wants it?—ONE WHO KNOWS.

Dear One: I agree. But one thing is certain. The "battle of the sexes" will never be won. There's too much fraternization with "the enemy."

Confidentially

TO FAKED OUT: I am not suggesting that you tell the young man how to run his life but why let him ruin yours? A guy who insists that you be a drinking buddy so he won't be a solitary drunk is not my idea of good husband material.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Australian Telescope To Top U.S., Russia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—A radio telescope capable of tracking American and Russian satellites better than the Americans or Russians is being completed at Parkes, 270 miles west of Sydney.

It is being built by the Radiophysics Division of the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization, whose officers say it will be the most refined in the world.

The telescope is expected to be ready for work in July or August. It will be 210 feet across, cover an area as big as a football field, and cost 800,000 Australian pounds ($1,792,000).

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Like Mother, Like Daughter?

A delightful story, with an O. Henry ending, clings in my memory. A slim young man reluctantly decided not to marry his dream girl because her mother was far past pleasingly plump. He feared the lovely blonde daughter, who resembled the mother in coloring, would get fat, too. Twenty years later they met again. Disappointed in his first love, he never married. By then she was a most attractive widow. Belatedly he proposed and was turned down. She did not want to marry a fat man!

Ida Jean Kain

As this story shows, fat is not hereditary. Excess pounds can come only from a plethora of food. It's the grand total of calories that counts. In short, it is not what your ancestors ate, but what you eat.

IT IS TRUE, of course, that bony framework is inherited. Also we are genetically predisposed to store any excess fat according to family pattern ... whether the tendency is toward upholstered hips or an ample bosom. Nonetheless, without excess food there couldn't be any excess fat to be deposited.

When whole families are overweight, it is natural to jump to the conclusion that fat "runs in the family." Not true. The cause is fattening food habits. Food habits are set by environment and food habits can be changed.

For example, your family liked simple meals with many vegetables, fruits, salads, milk and eggs and you prefer that way of eating. Then you marry a man from another part of the country. He has a fondness for foods like those "his mother used to make" ...so that's your weakness now.

PERHAPS THE head of the house is the tall, energetic type who takes big meals in his six-foot stride. You're more the calm type, with an even temperment and good disposition. A familiar refrain in the letters goes, "I weighed 116 pounds when I got married and now ..."

It's food habits. All excess fat comes from excess calories. But the change in your figure is so gradual as to go almost unnoticed. First thing you know the scales were up five pounds, which wasn't alarming, so you went blithely along and added another five ... and another ... and another!

No doubt about it — we are reluctant to change our longtime food habits. An alternative is to cut down on serving sizes. The portions to which we are accustomed were set back in the days when more calories were needed.

In this less active age, it is utterly foolish for us to continue to help ourselves to the same-sized servings. Calorie intake can be cut by at least a third through smaller servings. Homemakers, decide to cook just a little less and cut serving sizes slightly and the family weight trend will gradually go down.

Send a long, slef - addressed, stamped envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Lady Astor, The Goat, Stole The Show Once

She became a mother while the show was on.

And to the audience he added: "You think I'm kidding?"

INDIAN RIVER, Mich. (AP) — A Toledo area woman, Mrs. Loretta Schmuhl, 36, of Whitehouse, Ohio, was killed Sunday in a two-car head-on collision seven miles east of here.

Police Probe 2 City Thefts

East Liverpool police today are investigating two weekend thefts, awaiting inventories to determine if there was any loss.

The Jewel Tea Co.'s storage garage on Myrtle Ave. was entered sometime Sunday by a burglar who forced a lock on a door on the west side, police said. The entry was reported at 5:45 p. m. yesterday, but the company said it must check the stock before determining if there was any loss.

Apparently thieves were hunting for money when they ransacked a panel truck owned by the National Cigarette Service of Steubenville while it was parked between 9 p. m. Saturday and 12:30 p. m. Sunday at the home of an employe, Robert Blatchford, 311 Garfield St., police said.

Blatchford told police an inventory will be required to determine if anything was taken. Money never is kept in the truck, he added.

Engineers Obsolete After 10-Year Period

CLEVELAND (AP) — Engineers fresh out of the classroom are commanding high salaries because those who graduated a decade ago are obsolete, says Dr. Chester J. Kishel, head of Fenn College's Industrial Engineering Department.

"For an engineer to keep up-to-date on developments, he would have to spend 30 per cent of his time studying," Dr. Kishel says. "One of the reasons the Russians are ahead of us is that their teachers are young while, by last-minute standards, half of our professors are obsolescent."

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY
Written For Bell Syndicate

The question as to whether a house with a full basement or cellar is better than a house with just a crawl-space is still being argued.

Our own opinion is that, inasmuch as we no longer have to store 10 tons of coal in the cellar or make room for barrels of potatoes, apples and flour, the crawl space is the ideal plan for the modern home. We believe that an ell or utility room above ground is far better than twice the space below ground.

The United States government made an intensive study of this question and has come up with some very interesting facts and figures which appear to bear us out.

According to a recent technical bulletin issued by the Division of Housing Research, a full basement under a one-story house of average size is worth about $2,000 as compared with a cost of $1,600 for an ell or addition above ground to house the heating plant and a certain amount of storage space.

This is readily understood when you consider the great amount of excavating required for a full basement, the foundation walls, cellar stairs and other items needed.

Further information in the same bulletin is to the effect that home owners frequently prefer above-ground laundries, workrooms and recreations rooms and that there is a very definite trend away from up - and - downstairs housework.

Considering this question from a completely practical angle, it does seem that a house which is built over an ample crawl-space and has good provisions made for storage, heating and family activities, is far better than one which costs more and makes it necessary to go below ground to take advantage of space.

Yule Tree Damage

Plastic Home Seen By '80s

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The chemist, Henry DeVore, says that by the 1980's entire houses will be constructed of plastics. He calls attention to an experimental building put up by army engineers at Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Constructed of plastic panels, molded and shaped from foam sprayed from a 55-gallon barrel, the building was reinforced by spraying it with polyester. Although as large as a two - car garage, the building weighed less than 600 pounds.

"There will come a day," says DeVore, "when houses such as this will be poured from a barrel. Buyers will select a site and then order barrels of chemicals for on-the-spot molding into the panels that will be used in the basic structure of the house."

The builder's forecasts concern the immediate future, not the 1980's. To meet the swelling need for middle-income rental housing, a segment of the real estate industry is now focusing its sights on garden apartments fashioned from factory-built components, just as has been done with so many shell, vacation and one-family development homes.

The builder, Joshua Benanav, says that new automatic equipment soon will make it possible to produce an entire garden apartment building of six units in one hours' manufacturing time. Units already are being turned out and delivered to the site for completion in two days' time.

The third prediction, from George M. Clarkson, chairman of the National Association of Real Estate Boards' Committee on Real Estate Economics, relates to the future demands of home buyers.

While Clarkson makes the forecast, he points out that it really is nothing more than the result of a survey conducted during the last six months. Sifting through all the details, the prediction is this: home buyers will be on the lookout for greater size in everything. They will want larger rooms, bigger plots, more built-ins and extra bathrooms.

Tips Are Offered On Perforations

Question: I am planning on covering a closet wall with the perforated boards I have seen in lumber yards. Can you tell me how to attach them so that I get maximum use of the perforations, which will be used for hanging clothes on metal hooks?

Answer: You will have to nail furring strips to the existing wall. Use strips three-quarters of an inch by three-quarters and place them at 16-inch intervals, nailing them through the wall and into the studding. When the strips are in place, spread glue on them and position the panel so that the strips fall between the rows of perforations.

Fasten the panel with brads or roundhead wood screws applied through drilled holes or the perforations themselves. Use a fastener every four inches around the edges and every six inches on intermediate supports. Panels one-eighth of an inch in thickness usually are amply strong, but if it is expected that the hanger loads will be extremely heavy, use the quarter-inch size.

You can get the perforated panels with a factory primecoat which is slightly textured and ready for finishing or you can apply a primecoat to ordinary panels and then add the finishing coats. Incidentally, if you are using more than one panel, avoid butting them tightly.

Looking For Old Barn?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The annual search for old barns has begun. Highways and byways are being traveled in search of that bucolic dream scene complete with a barn, sugar house or water mill.

The aim is to remodel the hideaway and make it livable and cozy. Any advertisement that indicates there is a quite retreat "that may be fixed up by a weekend handyman" is bound to corral a number of lookers.

How much will it cost to remodel the barn whether you do it yourself or hire someone.

OWNERS GET fabulous prices for old barns because of the demand. How much is the barn worth? Determine the price by finding out the going rate for acreage and deduct the cost of your acreage from the entire parcel. The sum left is the cost of the barn. Is it worth it? Few barns are worth over $500. A well-kept large barn with good timbers may be worth as much as $1,500.

If the barn is dirt cheap, ask yourself why it is dirt cheap. Is running water available? Is there water in the well? Is there a well?

Is there electricity? If you are the type who must have electrical appliances and television to be happy, better determine that question.

Are the timbers good? If they are rotting, the barn must be completely rebuilt to be livable.

Is the space adequate for your requirements, even though you plan to use the place for weekends and vacations?

Even if a barn is left as is with slight necessary remodeling such as bathroom or kitchen, it will require windows and doors and old wood beams often are stronger than steel when you try to cut into them.

CHECK THE roof. Leaky barns are not unheard of and chances are you will need a new roof.

Is the barn in an open section? A spot like that may be a hot box, and good size shade trees are expensive. Dark barns are likely to feel cool, but once you get a few windows in them, and ventilate them properly, they can be hotter than blazes.

If a stream sells you on your barn, find out whether it dries up in warm weather. Many country scenes lose charm when the stream evaporates in warm weather.

You plan to have someone remodel your hideaway-to-be, but how far would he have to travel to reach the job? Are the roads adequate? And could you visit your vacation retreat in cold weather, if you had to in some emergency?

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent ashtrays, figurines, and other chinaware from marring or damaging the finish on my furniture?

A. Cement to the bottoms of these articles the kind of rubber rings used for sealing fruit jars. These rubber protectors have an advantage over felt, ordinarily used, in that they do not absorb water when the objects to which they are attached are washed. And also, the rubber cement which is used to attach the rubber to the objects does not dissolve in water, as do some of the adhesives used with felt.

Q. How can I insure a tighter grip when driving screws into wood?

A. If you'll dip your screws into some paint or glue before using them, they'll stay where they're supposed to indefinitely.

Q. How can I remove onion odor and flavor from cooking utensils?

You Should Replace Heater Before It Develops A Leak

CHICAGO — Most people don't wait until that day when the family automobile fails to run to make a trade. And the same should be true with your home water heater.

If you wait until the heater springs a leak before replacing it, you will be causing yourself unnecessary inconvenience, the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau advises.

In many homes, hot water needs have increased substantially over the past years, yet the home is being serviced by the same water heater.

As more than half the gallons of water used in the home are hot, it makes good sense to assure proper performance and ample amounts of hot water by having a heater that is sized according to your present needs.

Many heaters installed in homes today are inadequate and are being pushed beyond their capacity. An undersized heater will wear out rapidly because the more frequently hot water is drawn from the tank the more often the internal surface is exposed to dissolved oxygen. The rate of corrosion in a water heater is directly related to the amounts of oxygen on the metal surface.

Though the minimum size for any home water heater is 40 gallons, many should have a larger capacity to meet the family's special and normal needs.

Bringing Up A Family

Child's Eating Problems Discussed

A New Jersey mother who has done well at teaching her daughter, 18 months old, to respect No, says her child is shy of adults and wonders about permissiveness in eating. She writes: "Shortly before Dora reached the creeping stage we read your article on starting discipline. As we feel parents are also people, we adopted your hand-slapping method. Despite the dire warnings of our friends, who just seem to nag at their children, Dora, now 18 months, is a happy, well-behaved little girl. The only time it is necessary to denude our home is when these same permissive friends visit with their children.

Dr. Garry Meyers

"SINCE SHE was four months old she has been afraid of people she doesn't know well. As we live in the country and have a six-months-old baby, it is very difficult for me to get out with her.

"As a result, family and friends, after the first dirty look from Dora, make a fuss over the baby, who responds well, and ignore Dora. I am afraid this will create a jealousy problem between the girls.

"I know children's appetites decline at this age and I don't force her to eat more than she wants, but must I offer half a dozen things at each meal until I hit on what fits her mood for the day?

"I don't want to start a feeding problem, but my frugal soul rebels at so much waste."

PREVAIL ON relatives and friends to pay more attention to Dora and to make less fuss over the baby. Let Dora go to bed half an hour later than the baby, and during that half hour you should have fun with her, rock and cuddle her and read to her. Dad should, also.

Often vary the food from meal to meal. At mealtime attractively present one essential food, a very tiny portion of it, first. Let her have no other food unless she eats this. Don't tell her to eat it. Let her leave the table if she likes but be sure she can have nothing to eat until the next regular meal.

If she chooses to eat this food let her have any other approved food she likes.

My bulletins, "The Child Who Is Shy" and "Eating Problems," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Ex-U.S. Revenuer Was Busy 30 Years

NORTH WILKESBORO, N. C. (AP) — Charlie Felts, 70, who retired after 30 years as a federal revenuer, is credited by some sources with destroying more moonshine liquor stills than any man in the country.

Confiscated five million gallons of mash, 70,000 gallons of illegal whisky which represented some $5.7 million in unpaid federal whisky tax, and arrested 2,500 persons.

Feeder Of Multitudes Label For Director

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Clay Potts, director of short courses at Oklahoma State University more than 30 years, is better known as an expert barbecuer or, as some dub him, the "feeder of multitudes."

Since 1931 he has prepared feasts for 3,429 groups totaling more than 900,000 persons. The largest group he fed was 17,000 lead and zinc miners at Miami, Okla. in 1938.

Cincy Pushes Lead To 3 Games After Nipping Dodgers, 3 To 2

Pirates, Phils Break Even

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati widened its first place lead over Los Angeles to three games Sunday, defeating the Dodgers, 3-2. Joey Jay, with the help of Jim Brosnan in the eighth, notched his ninth triumph, making a three-run first inning holdup.

San Francisco's third-place Giants fell four games off the pace, splitting a doubleheader with St. Louis. Ray Sadecki, 20-year-old southpaw, limited the Giants to two hits in the nightcap, winning 3-1 after the Giants had captured the opener 6-4 with a four-run rally in the ninth.

Chicago's Cubs defeated Milwaukee 5-3 behind the hitting of George Altman and Billy Williams, who got seven of their team's 10 hits off loser Warren Spahn. Pittsburgh and Philadelphia divided a doubleheader. The Pirates won the opener 10-5 and the Phillies came back to take the second 4-3.

Cincinnati used only two hits to score three runs in the first inning. After Blasingame singled, Gus Bell walked and Vada Pinson doubled home a run. Gordie Coleman drove in another with a sacrifice fly and the third run scored on a balk.

George Altman and Billy Williams slammed Warren Spahn for seven of the Cubs' 10 hits. Altman had a double, triple and homer and scored three runs. Williams had four singles and drove in two. Don Cardwell, with the help of Barney Schultz, who pitched hitless ball in 3 1-3 relief innings, won his sixth.

Three St. Louis errors and singles by Jim Davenport and Willie Mays gave the Giants four runs in the ninth to overcome a 4-2 Card lead in the first game.

Sadecki permitted the Giants only two hits as he registered his sixth victory in the nightcap. Stan Musial's double featured a two-run rally in the second against loser Billy Loes. Mays' 18th homer in the ninth ruined Sedecki's shutout bid.

Homers decided the Philly-Pirate twin bill. Robert Clemente had two for Pittsburgh in the first game, his second igniting a four-run rally in the seventh inning. Pancho Herrera slammed a two-run homer in the seventh of the nightcap to snap a 2-2 tie.

Detroit first baseman Norm Cash walloped three home runs Sunday but the Tigers lost ground in the American League pennant race when they were held to a split in their doubleheader with Cleveland.

New Yorks' second-place Yankees narrowed Detroit's first place margin to 1½ games, defeating Minnesota 10-5. The Tigers, after winning the first game 6-3, were nipped in the ninth inning of the second game 4-3 by the Indians.

Chicago's red hot White Sox roared into a fifth-place tie with Baltimore, defeating Washington twice, 7-4 and 6-3. The double triumph extended the Sox' winning streak to 10 in a row and gave them 17 victories in their last 18 games. Baltimore downed Los Angeles 9-8 in 14 innings on Ron Hansen's home run.

Boston and Kansas City split. The Red Sox won the opener 7-4 and the A's took the second 3-2.

Cash drove in four runs in the opener, walloping a pair of two-run homers off loser Wynn Hawkins. His slugging enabled Jim Bunning to register his seventh victory. The veteran right-hander needed help in the eighth but did very well in a scuffle with Cleveland's Jimmy Piersall three innings earlier.

The Indians' temperamental outfielder became enraged when hit on the wrist by a Bunning pitch and charged out to the mound. Piersall, along with two teammates who came to his assistance, was ejected.

Cash's nightcap homer was not enough. The Indians snapped a tie in the ninth when Chuck Essegian sent a drive off the right field fence with one out and the bases loaded. Ironically, Essegian was not credited with a hit because Vic Power failed to touch second and was forced for the second out as the winning run scored.

Veterans Billy Pierce and Early Wynn pitched the victories for the White Sox whose spectacular three-week surge has lifted them from last place to a fifth-place tie with Baltimore, fifteen and a half games out June 11, the Sox now trail front-running Detroit by 9½ lengths. Nellie Fox, with three hits and two RBI, was the Sox batting star in the opener and Floyd Robinson, with four hits and 3 RBI, paced their hitters in the nightcap.

Catcher Ellie Howard drove in four Yankees runs with a home run and single and offset the torrid hitting of Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew. The Twins' strongboy clouted a home run and single to account for half his teams' runs off winner Bill Strafford. It was the sixth homer in six games for Killebrew who drove in 15 runs and hit .591 during the span.

Mike Fornieles pitched four scoreless innings to protect Don Schwall's sixth victory in seven decisions since the later joined the Red Sox six weeks ago. Red Sox outfielder Carroll Hardy had a double and triple, scored two runs and drove in one. Gene Stephens, a former Red Sox outfielder, smashed a two-run homer to give the A's the split and furnish Bob Shaw with his first Kansas City victory since he came from the White Sox two weeks ago.

Burleson Tops Beatty In Disappointing Time

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dyrol Burleson, 20-year-old Oregon junior, said today he'd rather win a mile race in 6 minutes than lose one in 3:48.

That about sums up his attitude on his disappointing 4:04.9 victory over Jim Beatty in the National AAU championships Sunday.

The race produced another chapter in the war of words between Burleson, who holds the American mile record of 3:57.6, and Beatty, 26, whose best is 3:58.

"Nonsense," said Burlson. "I don't know what was going on but it takes two to box a man and that didn't happen."

The 19,220 spectators were drawn mostly by the prospect of a 4-minute mile. But Beatty and Burleson spent the first lap watching each other.

Burleson finally opened up just before the three-quarters and won by about 15 yards. Beatty started out after him too late, with less than 200 yards left.

"I ran a stupid race," said Beatty. "I never should have let them box me."

All told, six meet records were set, three Saturday and three Sunday.

Two of the three marks Sunday were upsets. Ron Morris of the Southern California Striders did 15-8 in the pole vault. Don Bragg, the favorite and Olympic champion, was 13th. Aubrey Dooley, the defending champion, didn't even make the final.

The other meet record during the day was set by Deacon Jones of the Army, who hit the tape in 8:48 in the 3,000-meter steeplechase.

Frank Budd of Villanova, who set a world record of 9.2 for the 100-yard dash the first day, could do no better than third in the 220 Sunday. Paul Drayton, his teammate, beat him in a wind-aided 21 flat.

Bragg Says He's Done After Poor Showing

"I'm through. I quit. That's my last meet," said Bragg after losing Sunday in the National AAU track and field championships.

Ron Morris, Southern California Striders, won the pole vault by soaring 15-8, erasing Bob Richards' 15-4½ record. Bragg tied for sixth at 15 feet.

Piersall 'Kicks Off' Near Riot In Tribe-Tiger Game

CLEVELAND (AP)—The reformation this season in the behavior of Cleveland's Jim Piersall has been given a setback by the sting of a pitched ball on his right wrist.

It was the old Jim Piersall—emotional, fiery, irritating umpires and hamming it up for fans and a national television audience—who touched off a near Donnybrook in the Indians' opener with Detroit Sunday.

Piersall dashed to the mound to get pitcher Jim Bunning after he was nicked on the wrist with a pitch. Soon both dugouts were empty as players milled in a wild scramble.

"That guy (Bunning) has hit me six or seven times," declared Piersall later as he sat out the second game with a tender wrist. "I'm tired of it. He'd better stop throwing at people or somebody's going to get him."

"You don't think I'd be throwing at anyone with us leading by two runs and two guys on base. That wouldn't make sense."

Piersall threw a feeble left hook and followed with a right. Both missed as Bunning, wanting no part of a fight, ducked away. Then came an exchange of kicks. These were more effective. Both participants had shin scratches.

The Tigers took the opener 6-3 on a pair of two-run homers by Norm Cash, who also belted a solo shot in the nightcap. But the Indians won the second contest, 4-3, on a line drive off the right field fence by pinch hitter Chuck Essegian with the bases loaded in the ninth.

"I'm going to demand a hearing before I pay any fine on this one," said Piersall.

Laver Made Favorite As Wimbledon Opens

LONDON (AP) — The 75th Wimbledon tennis championships opened today with the bookies figuring that second-seeded Rod Laver of Australia would dethrone his countryman Neale Fraser as men's singles champion.

They made Sandra Reynolds, the South African beauty, and Margaret Smith, 18, Australian champion, co-favorites for the women's title.

One betting firm made red-haired Laver, twice a Wimbledon runner-up, favorite at 6-4, followed by Roy Emerson of Australia at 3-1 and Fraser at 4-1. Rarely have such odds been placed against a defending champion and No. 1 seed.

Palmer Is Victor In Western Open

... .. By ED MARKAITY ... ..

Palmer is richer by $5,000 and a Grand Rapids-made chest of drawers after a brilliant victory Sunday in the 58th Western Open golf tournament with a 13-under-par, 72-hole total of 271.

Two days earlier, while sharing the halfway lead, he estimated a total 270 would win the four-day even at Blythefield County Club, where par is 36-35—71.

He wants to sharpen his iron play before going overseas Saturday to enter the British Open — bypassing the Flint Open this week.

The transplanted Pennsylvanian now playing out of Miami, Fla., stood off the pressure challenge of Sam Snead, who was runnerup in the Western on a 273 total worth $2,800 and a "bachelor's chest."

Remaining prize money, plus some furniture items, was divided among 53 other top pros in amounts ranging from $1,505 to $100. U.S. Open champion Gene Littler ended in a three-way tie for seventh to pick up $1,056, and 1961's leading money-winner, Gary Player, was in a four-way tie for 11th, worth $265 each.

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati widened its first place lead over Los Angeles to three games Sunday, defeating the Dodgers, 3-2. Joey Jay, with the help of Jim Brosnan in the eighth, notched his ninth triumph, making a three-run first inning holdup.

San Francisco's third-place Giants fell four games off the pace, splitting a doubleheader with St. Louis. Ray Sadecki, 20-year-old southpaw, limited the Giants to two hits in the nightcap, winning 3-1 after the Giants had captured the opener 6-4 with a four-run rally in the ninth.

Chicago's Cubs defeated Milwaukee 5-3 behind the hitting of George Altman and Billy Williams, who got seven of their team's 10 hits off loser Warren Spahn. Pittsburgh and Philadelphia divided a doubleheader. The Pirates won the opener 10-5 and the Phillies came back to take the second 4-3.

Cincinnati used only two hits to score three runs in the first inning. After Blasingame singled, Gus Bell walked and Vada Pinson doubled home a run. Gordie Coleman drove in another with a sacrifice fly and the third run scored on a balk.

George Altman and Billy Williams slammed Warren Spahn for seven of the Cubs' 10 hits. Altman had a double, triple and homer and scored three runs. Williams had four singles and drove in two. Don Cardwell, with the help of Barney Schultz, who pitched hitless ball in 3 1-3 relief innings, won his sixth.

Three St. Louis errors and singles by Jim Davenport and Willie Mays gave the Giants four runs in the ninth to overcome a 4-2 Card lead in the first game.

Sadecki permitted the Giants only two hits as he registered his sixth victory in the nightcap. Stan Musial's double featured a two-run rally in the second against loser Billy Loes. Mays' 18th homer in the ninth ruined Sedecki's shutout bid.

Homers decided the Philly-Pirate twin bill. Robert Clemente had two for Pittsburgh in the first game, his second igniting a four-run rally in the seventh inning. Pancho Herrera slammed a two-run homer in the seventh of the nightcap to snap a 2-2 tie.

The result was that Piersall, who was ousted from eight games last year, got thumbed from the field for the first time this year.

Piersall dashed to the mound to get pitcher Jim Bunning after he was nicked on the wrist with a pitch. Soon both dugouts were empty as players milled in a wild scramble.

"That guy (Bunning) has hit me six or seven times," declared Piersall later as he sat out the second game with a tender wrist. "I'm tired of it. He'd better stop throwing at people or somebody's going to get him."

Bunnning disclaimed any intent of aiming to hit Piersall, explaining:

"You don't think I'd be throwing at anyone with us leading by two runs and two guys on base. That wouldn't make sense."

Piersall threw a feeble left hook and followed with a right. Both missed as Bunning, wanting no part of a fight, ducked away. Then came an exchange of kicks. These were more effective. Both participants had shin scratches.

The Tigers took the opener 6-3 on a pair of two-run homers by Norm Cash, who also belted a solo shot in the nightcap. But the Indians won the second contest, 4-3, on a line drive off the right field fence by pinch hitter Chuck Essegian with the bases loaded in the ninth.

"I'm going to demand a hearing before I pay any fine on this one," said Piersall.

Woodbine broke a 2-2 tie with a run in the third inning then pushed two markers across in the fourth.

Dave Chetwynd sat Litten's down on four hits and fanned six batters in going the distance. Johnson was the loser as Woodbine collected six hits. Five errors by Litten's helped the Laundrymen.

Denny Burke was the big gun at the plate for Woodbine with three hits in four trips. One went for a double.

Laver Made Favorite As Wimbledon Opens

LONDON (AP) — The 75th Wimbledon tennis championships opened today with the bookies figuring that second-seeded Rod Laver of Australia would dethrone his countryman Neale Fraser as men's singles champion.

They made Sandra Reynolds, the South African beauty, and Margaret Smith, 18, Australian champion, co-favorites for the women's title.

One betting firm made red-haired Laver, twice a Wimbledon runner-up, favorite at 6-4, followed by Roy Emerson of Australia at 3-1 and Fraser at 4-1. Rarely have such odds been placed against a defending champion and No. 1 seed.

Palmer Is Victor In Western Open

By ED MARKAITY

Palmer is richer by $5,000 and a Grand Rapids-made chest of drawers after a brilliant victory Sunday in the 58th Western Open golf tournament with a 13-under-par, 72-hole total of 271.

Two days earlier, while sharing the halfway lead, he estimated a total 270 would win the four-day even at Blythefield County Club, where par is 36-35—71.

He wants to sharpen his iron play before going overseas Saturday to enter the British Open — bypassing the Flint Open this week.

The transplanted Pennsylvanian now playing out of Miami, Fla., stood off the pressure challenge of Sam Snead, who was runnerup in the Western on a 273 total worth $2,800 and a "bachelor's chest."

Remaining prize money, plus some furniture items, was divided among 53 other top pros in amounts ranging from $1,505 to $100. U.S. Open champion Gene Littler ended in a three-way tie for seventh to pick up $1,056, and 1961's leading money-winner, Gary Player, was in a four-way tie for 11th, worth $265 each.

Major League Owners Begin Their Meetings

CHICAGO (AP) — Owners of American and National League baseball teams begin their meetings today witht wo problems uppermost: National League expansion and skyrocketing bonuses to young potential big-leaguers.

The Monday National League session will bring a report from a five-member committee of general managers on how to fit the two new 1962 members — New York and Houston — into a 10-team circuit on an equitable basis.

Current feeling is that the National will use the same general approach the American League employed in adding a Los Angeles team and a new Washington team.

Each American League club placed 15 players on a draft list, with seven subject to claim by each of the two new teams at a fixed price of $75,000 apiece.

Commissioner Ford Frick says he is working on the problem of bonus signings. Payment ceilings and stiff fines for violations, Frick says, may be needed to curtail bonus offers of $100,000 or more to teen-agers who may never come close to making the big leagues.

Good Grid Prospect Withdraws At WVU

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Larry Tracewell, hard - running back from Parkersburg, will not be eligible for football next fall at West Virginia University because of grades.

The sophomore, who was expected to help a lot with WVU's sagging football fortunes next fall, plans to enter military service and then return to school.

"We could have used him," Coach Gene Corum said. Tracewell had been playing quarterback, but Corum was going to switch him to halfback. "He's a good, hard runner," Corum said.

Ironically, Tracewell was the second Parkersburg back to withdraw from school. Earlier, Jimmy Bargeloh, Kennedy Award winner from Parkersburg, dropped out.

Corum said Tracewell and Bargeloh were the only major losses from the list of prospects for the 1961 varsity.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Norm Cash, Tigers — The Detroit first baseman crashed three home runs as the Tigers split a doubleheader with Cleveland. He hit a pair of two-run homers in a 6-3 first game triumph and added another in the second game, won by Cleveland 4-3.

Pitching—Ray Sadecki, Cardinals — The 20-year-old southpaw limited San Francisco to two hits, winning the nightcap of a doubleheader 3-1. The Giants won the opener 6-4. Sadecki lost his shutout in the ninth when Willie Mays slammed his 18th homer.

Lawrenceville Tops Georgetown, 14-1

The young hurler also fanned 15 batters and collected a pair of hits. Vic Reed with a triple and two singles paced the winners at the plate.

Sign With Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The number of Pittsburgh Steelers under contract for the 1961 season jumped to 36 over the weekend with the signing of veteran end Preston Carpenter and rookie halfback Brady Keyes.

468 Kids In Fish Derby

A total of 468 boys and girls tried their luck in the stocked lake at Tomlinson Run State Park near Pughtown and most went home full of hots dogs and soft drinks, and carrying fishing and outdoor gear given as prizes.

The attendance well exceeded last year's 258 and the derby was the most successful of those held by the club, Harl Stover, general chairman, reported.

Aside from giving away expensive prizes to the winners, the club distributed 1,500 hot dogs and 75 gallons of soft drinks. "It was the first time I ever saw kids get enough hot dogs," Stover commented.

The club gave prizes to the boys and girls who landed the biggest and most fish during the afternoon, while many won prizes in a free drawing.

Invited to the event, West Virginia Gov. W. W. Barron wired club officials that he would be unable to attend because he would attend a governor's convention in Hawaii.

The club said prizes will be given next year for catching different kinds of fish, and added that winners will be required to be present next year to receive prizes.

3-Legged Champion

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — Echoing Sheilia, a beagle owned by Jess Hope of Chattanooga, was named absolute winner of the Tennessee Valley championship beagle trials. Sheila has only three legs.

Her right rear leg was amputated several years ago after she became entangled in a wire fence. Sheilia, a 5-year-old, won over 47 champion beagles from Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky and Virginia.

$600 Damage Listed In Cow Hollow Crash

A total of $600 damage resulted Sunday at 4 p. m. when the cars of Melvin Javins, 49, of Smiths Ferry and Wesley Reed, 45, of Industry R. D. 1 collided on the Cow Hollow Rd. in Ohio Township.

The Rochester barracks of the Pennsylvania State police, which investigated, said there was damage to the left front of both vehicles.

Police said the cars collided at the crest of a hill. No injuries were reported. Javins was eastbound and Reed was westbound.

New Golf Car

CHICAGO (AP) — Golf cars may be a boon to golfing, but they also are a bane to golf course superintendents.

W. F. Burdick told the Chicagoland Golf Association that a new rubber tire with a 12-inch "footprint" virtually floats the golf car over the course.

The tires were run over a wristwatch without breaking it and over broken, jagged glass without being punctured.

Henry Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves had 63 hits in his first 47 games. Twenty-seven of the safeties were for extra bases.

Major League Owners Begin Their Meetings

CHICAGO (AP) — Owners of American and National League baseball teams begin their meetings today witht wo problems uppermost: National League expansion and skyrocketing bonuses to young potential big-leaguers.

The Monday National League session will bring a report from a five-member committee of general managers on how to fit the two new 1962 members — New York and Houston — into a 10-team circuit on an equitable basis.

Current feeling is that the National will use the same general approach the American League employed in adding a Los Angeles team and a new Washington team.

Each American League club placed 15 players on a draft list, with seven subject to claim by each of the two new teams at a fixed price of $75,000 apiece.

Commissioner Ford Frick says he is working on the problem of bonus signings. Payment ceilings and stiff fines for violations, Frick says, may be needed to curtail bonus offers of $100,000 or more to teen-agers who may never come close to making the big leagues.

Good Grid Prospect Withdraws At WVU

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Larry Tracewell, hard - running back from Parkersburg, will not be eligible for football next fall at West Virginia University because of grades.

The sophomore, who was expected to help a lot with WVU's sagging football fortunes next fall, plans to enter military service and then return to school.

"We could have used him," Coach Gene Corum said. Tracewell had been playing quarterback, but Corum was going to switch him to halfback. "He's a good, hard runner," Corum said.

Ironically, Tracewell was the second Parkersburg back to withdraw from school. Earlier, Jimmy Bargeloh, Kennedy Award winner from Parkersburg, dropped out.

Corum said Tracewell and Bargeloh were the only major losses from the 1961 varsity.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Norm Cash, Tigers — The Detroit first baseman crashed three home runs as the Tigers split a doubleheader with Cleveland. He hit a pair of two-run homers in a 6-3 first game triumph and added another in the second game, won by Cleveland 4-3.

Pitching—Ray Sadecki, Cardinals — The 20-year-old southpaw limited San Francisco to two hits, winning the nightcap of a doubleheader 3-1. The Giants won the opener 6-4. Sadecki lost his shutout in the ninth when Willie Mays slammed his 18th homer.

Lawrenceville Tops Georgetown, 14-1

Sign With Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The number of Pittsburgh Steelers under contract for the 1961 season jumped to 36 over the weekend with the signing of veteran end Preston Carpenter and rookie halfback Brady Keyes.

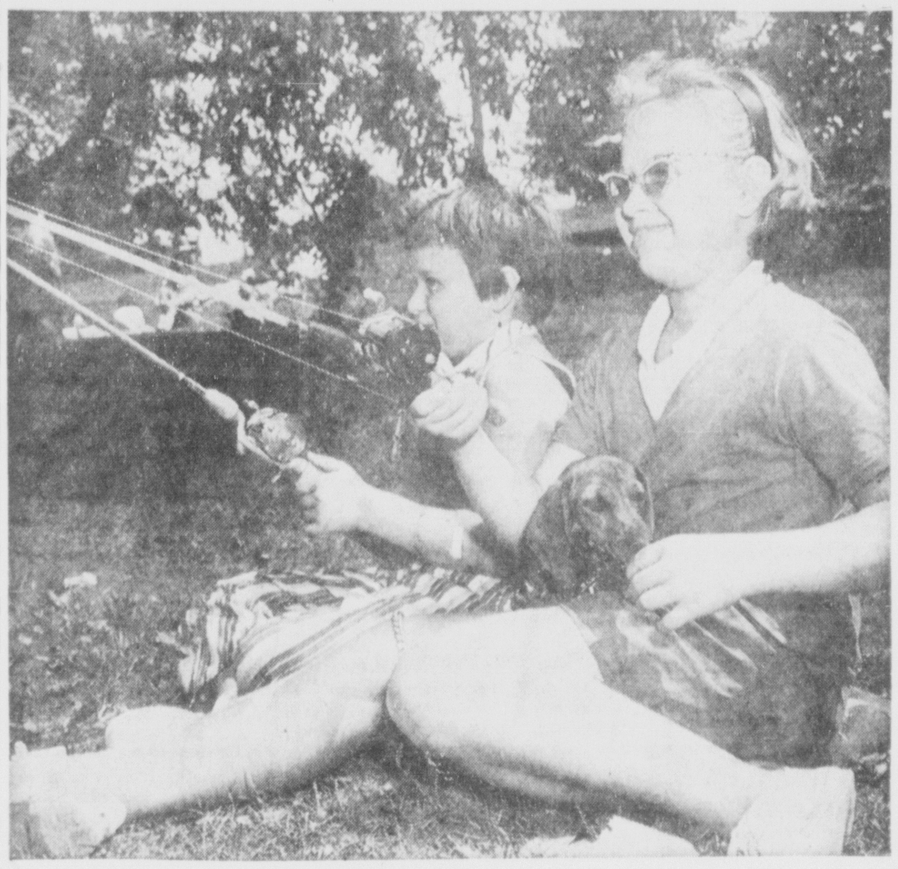
468 Kids In Fish Derby



The small fry had their day Saturday at the biggest fishing derby ever of the Hancock County Fishermen's Club.

A total of 468 boys and girls tried their luck in the stocked lake at Tomlinson Run State Park near Pughtown and most went home full of hots dogs and soft drinks, and carrying fishing and outdoor gear given as prizes.

The attendance well exceeded last year's 258 and the derby was the most successful of those held by the club, Harl Stover, general chairman, reported.

Aside from giving away expensive prizes to the winners, the club distributed 1,500 hot dogs and 75 gallons of soft drinks. "It was the first time I ever saw kids get enough hot dogs," Stover commented.

The club gave prizes to the boys and girls who landed the biggest and most fish during the afternoon, while many won prizes in a free drawing.

The club awarded an estimated $1,200 in fishing and camping gear, and savings bonds and savings accounts.

Invited to the event, West Virginia Gov. W. W. Barron wired club officials that he would be unable to attend because he would attend a governor's convention in Hawaii.

The club said prizes will be given next year for catching different kinds of fish, and added that winners will be required to be present next year to receive prizes.

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — Echoing Sheilia, a beagle owned by Jess Hope of Chattanooga, was named absolute winner of the Tennessee Valley championship beagle trials. Sheila has only three legs.

$600 Damage Listed In Cow Hollow Crash

A total of $600 damage resulted Sunday at 4 p. m. when the cars of Melvin Javins, 49, of Smiths Ferry and Wesley Reed, 45, of Industry R. D. 1 collided on the Cow Hollow Rd. in Ohio Township.

The Rochester barracks of the Pennsylvania State police, which investigated, said there was damage to the left front of both vehicles.

Police said the cars collided at the crest of a hill. No injuries were reported. Javins was eastbound and Reed was westbound.

New Golf Car

CHICAGO (AP) — Golf cars may be a boon to golfing, but they also are a bane to golf course superintendents.

W. F. Burdick told the Chicagoland Golf Association that a new rubber tire with a 12-inch "footprint" virtually floats the golf car over the course.

The tires were run over a wristwatch without breaking it and over broken, jagged glass without being punctured.

Henry Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves had 63 hits in his first 47 games. Twenty-seven of the safeties were for extra bases.

International Stars Meet Indians Tonight

By The Associated Press

The International League All-Stars, managed by Toronto's Johnny Lipon, will be seeking their third straight victory tonight in the league's annual classic, this year against the Cleveland Indians at Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium.

The majors won the first three games. The Stars walloped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 14-6, in 1959 and the Milwaukee Braves, 7-2, last year at Toronto.

In Sunday's action, league-leading Columbus defeated Syracuse, 11-5 and 4-3. Charleston and Buffalo split, the Marlins taking the first game, 8-1, and Buffalo the nightcap, 1-0. Jersey City took two from Toronto, 6-3 and 1-0, while Rochester won the opener, 7-2, with Richmond taking the afterpiece of a twinbill, 1-0.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Smoke Haze is top-weighted and highrated for the featured Warren County Purse at River Downs today. Smoke Haze will be carrying 118 pounds in a field of eight nominated for the six furlong event for 4-year-olds and up.

Ohio Archers Lead

HINSDALE, Ill. (AP) — Three Ohioans—William Bednar of Hartville, Nancy Vonderheide of Cincinnati, and Grace Frye of Toledo —were leading the pack of 87 entrants after Sunday's qualifying in the National Archery Association tournament. The entrants seek to qualify for competition in the biannual world amateur archery meet Aug. 11-15 in Oslo, Norway.

State Lines Add To Tax Problems

CHICAGO (AP)—A key figure in the nation's ever-broadening state income tax picture these days is the fellow who earns his paycheck in a neighboring state.

He has been the subject of heated debate in the legislative chambers of several states that collect income taxes.

The big issue he poses is — which state gets to keep his income tax dollars, the state where he lives or the state where he works?

Thirty-six states and the District of Columbia now impose income taxes. Commerce Clearing House, a private agency that reports on tax laws, says many of the states have satisfactory agreements with neighboring states and others are working toward a solution.

For instance: When West Virginia passed an income tax law recently it was able to work out reciprocal agreements with neighboring Kentucky and Maryland, both of which already had income tax laws.

All three states have directed firms hiring nonresidents to reduce the nonresidents' taxes in the amount the employee is taxed in his home state.

But such harmony is not easy to come by when a great many more employes commute to one state than to the other. For example, approximately 150,000 New Jersey residents flock to New York jobs each morning compared with 50,000 or so New Yorkers who work in New Jersey.

New Jersey had no income tax, but New York had—and Jerseyites who worked there were required to pay it, about $50 million a year total.

Written into the New York tax law is a provision that nonresidents may deduct their home state's income tax from the amount imposed by New York. Faced with the need to raise money for commuter transportation services, the New Jersey Legislature took a close look at this provision and adopted a new law.

From now on, Jerseyites who work in New York (and only they) must pay a New Jersey income tax in the same amount imposed on them by New York. In effect, they would simply begin paying their entire New York tax to New Jersey.

For its part, New Jersey will begin withholding for New York the income tax of the New Yorkers working in Jersey—about $10 million a year which the New Yorkers theoretically had been required to pay to their home state but which heretofore had not been withheld from their Jersey paychecks.

Noting that the effect of this action would be to give New Jersey $50 million in exchange for $10 million, New York officials are anything but pleased. They point out the Jersey tax may be unconstitutionally discriminatory because it doesn't apply to all the state's residents. They anticipate a court test.

It started when Minnesota adopted a withholding tax which Wisconsin said voided an old agreement that neither would tax the other's residents.

Negotiations were started to reach a reciprocal agreement but they collapsed when a Wisconsin legislative committee contended Minnesota stood to gain a half-million dollars a year because more Wisconsin residents are employed in Minnesota than vice versa.

The Wisconsin Assembly is studying a bill that would allow Wisconsin to tax the incomes of Minnesotans working there and distribute the money proportionately to Wisconsin communities whose residents work in Minnesota and are taxed there.

Ike, Nixon Lend Hand To Pennsylvania GOP

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon meet tonight for the first time since leaving office to help Pennsylvania Republicans kick off a campaign to regain the governorship and a Senate seat.

While the $100-a-plate fund-raising buffet dinner is billed as a testimonial to the two men, it will give Nixon a chance to confer with Eisenhower on Republican politics and world problems.

Nixon is expected to deliver a 30-minute speech, touching on party organization and rebuilding GOP strength in the big cities.

Eisenhower is scheduled to make only brief remarks. But his appearance will give George I. Bloom, Pennsylvania state Republican chairman, a chance to find out for certain whether, as speculation has it, Eisenhower might be interested in running next year for the Senate seat now held by Democrat Joseph S. Clark. David L. Lawrence, also a Democrat, now holds the governorship. His term expires next year and he cannot seek reelection under Pennsylvania law.

The only survivor was Anthony Benbynek, 22, whose mother and sisters were killed.

Weirton Woman Cited For Drunken Driving

WEIRTON — Inez Young, 38, of Weirton was cited on a charge of driving while intoxicated after a traffic mishap Saturday at 11:30 p. m. on State Route 2 near Kings Creek bridge.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said her 1954 car struck the rear of the 1953 auto of Nicholas Gialluco, 30, of Weirton as he was turning left. Deputies filed the charge.

The county will receive $18,207 for use on its roads and townships will be paid $45,629 for maintenance of township roads.

The gasoline tax and auto license revenues have provided a total of $117 million for local governments in the fiscal year that ends Friday, Rhodes said. Gas tax distribution is down $1.7 million from last year but motor vehicle license money returned to local subdivisions is up by $1.6 million.

Kennedy Message Optimistic

Aid Bill Fate Hangs Over U.S. Educators' Meeting

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The cautious hope that Congress will pass a program of federal aid to education hung over the 99th annual convention of the National Education Association today.

Many of an estimated 10,000 delegates and observers were buoyed in spirit by a guardedly optimistic message Sunday night from President Kennedy, who said he hoped to sign such a bill before the end of the summer.

"But," he said, "it is a sound measure. It is a just measure. It is an urgently needed measure—and I have every reason to believe that. . .I will sign into law before the summer is out this nation's first federal aid to education program."

The administration bill calls for the expenditure of $2.5 billions over the next three years, to be used by the states to build classrooms and raise teachers' salaries.

The bill is now bottled up in the powerful House Rules Committee. The committee, by a 9 to 7 vote last week, decided to hold up the proposed legislation until it has had time to consider other bills which would provide federal aid to private and parochial schools.

"In the last analysis," Kennedy told the convention, "no amount of federal aid, no amount of new classrooms, no amount of state and local support can succeed without your daily efforts to improve the minds of our children.

"That is why you bear a responsibility for the nation's future that is as heavy as that of any officeholder, and that is also why I think it imperative that our federal aid to education program include funds for teachers' salaries."

The President's message was read to the convention by Rep. Frank P. Thompson Jr., D-N.J., who sponsored the House version of the administration bill.

President Quits At Bowling Green

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—It remained to be seen today whether the resignation of Dr. Ralph W. McDonald as president of Bowling Green State University will have any bearing on the dismissal of Dr. Sherman M. Stanage as philosophy department chairman.

It was the hassle that developed over Stanage's firing that brought to a head a campus dispute over McDonald's policies.

McDonald said he fired Stanage because the latter failed to develop a satisfactory religious education program in his department.

But a group of 60 of the university's 224 faculty members charged that McDonald's reason was a pretext and that Stanage was a victim of "vindictive punishment" because he exercised the right of free speech.

The board, in accepting McDonald's resignation Saturday, paid tribute to him in a statement which said, in part: "It will be a dark day if the resignation is taken as a victory for a minority (group in the) faculty whose members might be glad this happened."

The board also granted McDonald's wish that he be allowed to take a one year's leave of absence, starting with the effective date of the resignation Sept. 1, and return to Bowling Green as a faculty member in September 1962.

Hearing Slated July 6 On Disturbance Case

Charles S. Anderson, 26, of Stop 9, near Midland, was arrested Saturday at 10:18 p. m. in the Veterans Social Club on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman S. E. Hayes on charges of disorderly conduct by creating a disturbance in a public place, police reported.

Anderson, who was treated at City Hospital for a scalp laceration, pleaded not guilty when arraigned this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Because the arresting officer is on vacation and Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark will be absent later this week, Anderson's hearing was reset for July 6 at 9 a. m. His bond of $32.50 was continued.

Negotiations were started to reach a reciprocal agreement but they collapsed when a Wisconsin legislative committee contended Minnesota stood to gain a half-million dollars a year because more Wisconsin residents are employed in Minnesota than vice versa.

The Wisconsin Assembly is studying a bill that would allow Wisconsin to tax the incomes of Minnesotans working there and distribute the money proportionately to Wisconsin communities whose residents work in Minnesota and are taxed there.

Kennedy Message Optimistic

Aid Bill Fate Hangs Over U.S. Educators' Meeting

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The cautious hope that Congress will pass a program of federal aid to education hung over the 99th annual convention of the National Education Association today.

Many of an estimated 10,000 delegates and observers were buoyed in spirit by a guardedly optimistic message Sunday night from President Kennedy, who said he hoped to sign such a bill before the end of the summer.

The President told the convention: "The most crucial period for this legislation is still ahead."

"But," he said, "it is a sound measure. It is a just measure. It is an urgently needed measure —and I have every reason to believe that. . .I will sign into law before the summer is out this nation's first federal aid to education program."

The administration bill calls for the expenditure of $2.5 billions over the next three years, to be used by the states to build classrooms and raise teachers' salaries.

The bill is now bottled up in the powerful House Rules Committee. The committee, by a 9 to 7 vote last week, decided to hold up the proposed legislation until it has had time to consider other bills which would provide federal aid to private and parochial schools.

"In the last analysis," Kennedy told the convention, "no amount of federal aid, no amount of new classrooms, no amount of state and local support can succeed without your daily efforts to improve the minds of our children.

"That is why you bear a responsibility for the nation's future that is as heavy as that of any officeholder, and that is also why I think it imperative that our federal aid to education program include funds for teachers' salaries."

The President's message was read to the convention by Rep. Frank P. Thompson Jr., D-N.J., who sponsored the House version of the administration bill.

President Quits At Bowling Green

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—It remained to be seen today whether the resignation of Dr. Ralph W. McDonald as president of Bowling Green State University will have any bearing on the dismissal of Dr. Sherman M. Stanage as philosophy department chairman.

It was the hassle that developed over Stanage's firing that brought to a head a campus dispute over McDonald's policies.

McDonald said he fired Stanage because the latter failed to develop a satisfactory religious education program in his department.

But a group of 60 of the university's 224 faculty members charged that McDonald's reason was a pretext and that Stanage was a victim of "vindictive punishment" because he exercised the right of free speech.

The board of trustees twice has upheld McDonald's plan not to renew Stanage's contract after June 1962.

The board, in accepting McDonald's resignation Saturday, paid tribute to him in a statement which said, in part: "It will be a dark day if the resignation is taken as a victory for a minority (group in the) faculty whose members might be glad this happened."

The board appointed Dr. Ralph Harshman as acting president. Harshman is a faculty member who formerly served as vice president.

The board also granted McDonald's wish that he be allowed to take a one year's leave of absence, starting with the effective date of the resignation Sept. 1, and return to Bowling Green as a faculty member in September 1962.

Hearing Slated July 6 On Disturbance Case

Charles S. Anderson, 26, of Stop 9, near Midland, was arrested Saturday at 10:18 p. m. in the Veterans Social Club on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman S. E. Hayes on charges of disorderly conduct by creating a disturbance in a public place, police reported.

Anderson, who was treated at City Hospital for a scalp laceration, pleaded not guilty when arraigned this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Because the arresting officer is on vacation and Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark will be absent later this week, Anderson's hearing was reset for July 6 at 9 a. m. His bond of $32.50 was continued.

Ike, Nixon Lend Hand To Pennsylvania GOP

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon meet tonight for the first time since leaving office to help Pennsylvania Republicans kick off a campaign to regain the governorship and a Senate seat.

While the $100-a-plate fund-raising buffet dinner is billed as a testimonial to the two men, it will give Nixon a chance to confer with Eisenhower on Republican politics and world problems.

Nixon is expected to deliver a 30-minute speech, touching on party organization and rebuilding GOP strength in the big cities.

Eisenhower is scheduled to make only brief remarks. But his appearance will give George I. Bloom, Pennsylvania state Republican chairman, a chance to find out for certain whether, as speculation has it, Eisenhower might be interested in running next year for the Senate seat now held by Democrat Joseph S. Clark. David L. Lawrence, also a Democrat, now holds the governorship. His term expires next year and he cannot seek reelection under Pennsylvania law.
